
Studies in Jewish Civilization—7

PILGRIMS
&
TRAVELERS
TO THE HOLY LAND

Bryan F. Le Beau
Menachem Mor
Editors

Center for the Study of Religion and Society

The Klutznick Chair in Jewish Civilization

Creighton University Press

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Editors' Introduction	xi
List of Contributors	xvii
Holy and Haram: The Limits of Sacred Real Estate	1
Francis E. Peters
Sacred Space and Profane Power: Victor Turner and the Perspective of Holy Land Pilgrimage	9
Thomas A. Idinopulos
Pilgrims and Pilgrimage to Hebron (al-Khalīl) During the Early Muslim Period (638?-1099)	21
Amikam Elad
Muslim Pilgrimage to Jerusalem in the Mamluk Period	63
Yehoshua Frenkel
The Pilgrimage to Nebi Musa and the Origins of Palestinian Nationalism	89
Roger Friedland and Richard D. Hecht
Jerusalem in Late Medieval Itineraria	119
Thomas Renna
Mandeville's Jews among Others	133
Benjamin Braude
The Vision Becomes Reality: Medieval Women Pilgrims to the Holy Land	159
Kristine T. Utterback

- Pilgrimage, Ritual, and Power Strategies:
 Felix Fabri's Pilgrimage to Jerusalem in 1483 169
Dorothea R. French
- Representation and Ideals: The Construction of Women in Travel Literature to the Holy Land 181
Cathy Gutierrez
- Clorinda Minor, from Pilgrim to Pioneer 195
Barbara Kreiger
- Ambiguous Pilgrims: American Protestant
 Travelers to Ottoman Palestine, 1867-1914 209
Edward L. Queen, II
- Nineteenth-Century Mormon Pilgrimages to the Holy Land . . . 229
Andrew C. Skinner
- Staying Home for the Sights:
 Surrogate Destinations in America for Holy Land Travel 251
Lester I. Vogel
- Bahá'í Pilgrimage to Israel 269
Gandhimohan Viswanathan