

Millennial Thought in America

Historical and Intellectual Contexts, 1630-1860

Bernd Engler / Joerg O. Fichte /
Oliver Scheiding (Eds.)

 Wissenschaftlicher Verlag Trier

Contents

Bernd Engler / Joerg O. Fichte / Oliver Scheiding Transformations of Millennial Thought in America, 1630-1860	9
Joerg O. Fichte The Negotiation of Power in John Cotton's Commentaries on Revelation	39
Reiner Smolinski "The Way to Lost Zion": The Cotton-Williams Debate on the Separation of Church and State in Millenarian Perspective	61
Michael P. Clark "Even without a Metaphor": The Poetics of Apocalypse in Puritan New England	97
Kristina Bross The Mission upon a Hill: New England Evangelism, 1643-1653	133
Oliver Scheiding Samuel Sewall and the Americanization of the Millennium	165
Helen Kay Gelinias "The Great Business of Religion": Conversion, Commerce, and Ambiguity in the Writings of Jonathan Edwards	187
Linda Munk Jonathan Edwards: Types of the Peaceable Kingdom	215
Bernd Engler Strategies of Re-ciphering God's Moral Character in Joseph Bellamy's "The Millennium"	229

Florian Werner “Anti-Christian Business”: Samuel Hopkins on Slavery, African Colonization and the Kingdom of God in America	247
Cornelia Wegener Millennial Visions and Strategies of Ambiguation in Joel Barlow’s The Prospect of Peace	263
Jan Stievermann The Discursive Construction of American Identity in Millennialist Tracts during the War of 1812	279
Günter Leypoldt Radical Literalism and Social Perfectionism in Alexander Campbell’s Millennial Harbinger (1830-1864)	325
J.B. Lethbridge “Look again, and look a little higher”: The Historical Apocalyptic in the Earlier Writings of Ellen G. White	355
Illustrations	385
Index	391