

Anthropology, History,
and American Indians:
Essays in Honor of
William Curtis Sturtevant

William L. Merrill and Ives Goddard

EDITORS

Smithsonian Institution Press

Washington, D.C.

2002

Contents

	Page
Preface	viii
I. William Curtis Sturtevant	1
Sibling Review
Harriet Sturtevant Shapiro	3
William Curtis Sturtevant, Anthropologist
William L. Merrill	11
The Writings of William C. Sturtevant
Compiled by William L. Merrill	37
II. Anthropologists, Historians, and American Indians	45
Sleepwalking Through the History of Anthropology: Anthropologists on Home Ground
Laura Nader	47
Charlatan, Scientist, or Poet? Frank Hamilton Cushing's Search for a Language of Experiential Knowledge
Curtis M. Hinsley	55
George A. Dorsey and the Development of Plains Indian Anthropology
Raymond J. DeMallie and Douglas R. Parks	59
American Indian Migrations: A Neglected Dimension of Paleodemography
Dean R. Snow	75
From Ethnohistory to Anthropological History
Shepard Krech III	85
Editing a Cambridge History in a Postmodern Context
Bruce G. Trigger	95
A Historian Among the Anthropologists
Wilcomb E. Washburn	105
III. Worlds Transformed	111
"A Very Great Harvest of Souls": Timucua Indians and the Impact of European Colonization
Jerald T. Milanich	113
The Interstices of Literacy: Books and Writings and Their Use in Native American Southern New England
Kathleen J. Bragdon	121
From Manifest Destiny to the Melting Pot: The Life and Times of Charlotte Mitchell, Wampanoag
William S. Simmons	131
Indian Imagery and the Development of Tourism in the Southwest
JoAllyn Archambault	139
Hawaiian Art: From Sacred Symbol to Tourist Icon to Ethnic Identity Marker
Adrienne L. Kaeppler	147
The Neets'aii Gwich'in in the Twentieth Century
Jack Campisi	161

IV. Anthropology Evolving	171
Classifying North American Indian Languages before 1850
Elisabeth Tooker	173
Origins of Museum Anthropology at the Smithsonian Institution and Beyond
William W. Fitzhugh	179
Collections as Currency
Jane MacLaren Walsh	201
The Creation of Anthropological Archives: A California Case Study
Ira Jacknis	211
Starring the Anthropologists in the American Men of Science
David J. Meltzer	221
V. Collections in Anthropological Research	239
At the Cutting Edge: Patchwork and the Process of Artistic Innovation
Sally Price	241
European Motifs in Protohistoric Iroquois Art
Edmund Carpenter	255
Quilled Knife Cases from Northeastern North America
Christian F. Feest	263
Pabookowaih Unmasked
William N. Fenton and Donald B. Smith	279
The Linguistic Writings of Alfred Kiyana on Fox (Meskwaki)
Ives Goddard	285
The Munich Chukchi Collection
Jean-Loup Roussetot	295
VI. Nature in Culture	303
Totemism Reconsidered
Raymond D. Fogelson and Robert A. Brightman	305
Coyote, Acorns, Salmon, and Quartz: Verse Analysis of a Karok Myth
Dell Hymes	315
The Distribution and Habits of the Ringed Seal and Central Eskimo Settlement Patterns
David Damas	325
Species Transformations in Northern Mexico: Explorations in Rarámuri Zoology
William L. Merrill	333
Quenching Homologous Thirsts
Sidney W. Mintz	349

FIGURES

Frontispiece	x
Sibling Review, Harriet Sturtevant Shapiro
Figure 1.—Passport photograph of the Sturtevant family, 1932	4
Figure 2.—Harriet, Bill, and Fritz Sturtevant in Newcastle, England, 1933	5
Figure 3.—Fritz, Harriet, and Bill Sturtevant in Pasadena, California, ca. 1936	6
Figure 4.—Bill Sturtevant photographed in Woods Hole, Massachusetts, ca. 1938	6
Figure 5.—Bill Sturtevant in his room in Pasadena, California, 1945	7
Figure 6.—Bill Sturtevant at his desk, Pasadena, California, 1945	8
Figure 7.—The Sturtevant family at lunch in Pasadena, California, 1945	8
Figure 8.—Bill Sturtevant in the Navy, 1945	10

William Curtis Sturtevant, Anthropologist, William L. Merrill

Figure 1.—Mrs. Charley Cypress demonstrating grating of coontie (Zamia) roots, Big Cypress Reservation, 1957	15
Figure 2.—William Sturtevant with Solon Jones, New York, 1957	15
Figure 3.—Josie Billie and William Sturtevant, Big Cypress Reservation, 1959.	16
Figure 4.—William Sturtevant in his Bureau of American Ethnology office, 1965	20
Figure 5.—The staffs of the Bureau of American Ethnology and the River Basin Survey, 1965	23
Figure 6.—William Sturtevant collecting botanical specimens, Kashmir, 1968.	26
Figure 7.—William Sturtevant in the Department of Anthropology, 1980.	28
Figure 8.—William Sturtevant with Claude Lévi-Strauss, Paris, 1981.	29
Figure 9.—William Sturtevant in the offices of the Handbook of North American Indians , 1985.	31

George A. Dorsey and the Development of Plains Indian Anthropology, Raymond J. DeMallie and Douglas R. Parks

Figure 1.—Ayer Hall, Field Columbian Museum, 1894	61
Figure 2.—Cleaver Warden, Washington, D.C., 1895	63
Figure 3.—Richard Davis, Louisiana Purchase Exposition, St. Louis, 1904	65
Figure 4.—George A. Dorsey, William Jones, and James R. Murie, 1907.	68

American Indian Migrations: A Neglected Dimension of Paleodemography, Dean R. Snow

Figure 1.—Distribution of home territories of eastern North American societies	79
Figure 2.—Distribution of home territories of Northern Iroquoian societies	80

“A Very Great Harvest of Souls”: Timucua Indians and the Impact of European Colonization, Jerald T. Milanich

Figure 1.—The region of the Timucua	114
Figure 2.—Timucuan chiefdoms in the sixteenth century	115

The Interstices of Literacy: Books and Writings and Their Use in Native American Southern New England, Kathleen J. Bragdon

Figure 1.—An artist’s rendering of pictographs on Dighton Rock	122
Figure 2.—Conveyance, Martha’s Vineyard, 1706.	125
Figure 3.—Verso of New Testament title page, Massachusetts Bible, Nantucket	126

Hawaiian Art: From Sacred Symbol to Tourist Icon to Ethnic Identity Marker, Adrienne L. Kaeppler

Figure 1.—Feathered cloak of Kalani’ōpu’u	149
Figure 2.—Feathered cloak with circle design	149
Figure 3.— Pahu drum with crescent design	150
Figure 4.—Feathered cape with crescent design.	151
Figure 5.—Replicas of feathered cloaks worn by the Royal Court during Aloha Week, Hawaiian Village, Ala Moana Park, ca. 1947.	152
Figure 6.—Funeral of Prince Albert Kuniakea in front of ‘Iolani Palace, 1903	152
Figure 7.—Hawaii Visitors Bureau sign, 1990	153
Figure 8.—Kodak Hula Show, ca. 1961	154
Figure 9.—Menu cover based on a mural painting by Eugene Savage.	155
Figure 10.—Menu cover by Frank McIntosh	155
Figure 11.—Performance by the Zuttermeister Hula Studio, Merrie Monarch Festival, 1990	156

Figure 12.—Postcard of a pageant presented at the Mid-Pacific Carnival, ca. 1910 . . .	157
Figure 13.—Three generations of Hawaiian dancers, Washington, D.C., 1984	158
The Neets'aii Gwich'in in the Twentieth Century, Jack Campisi
Figure 1.—Neets'aii Gwich'in territory	162
Origins of Museum Anthropology at the Smithsonian Institution and Beyond, William W. Fitzhugh
Figure 1.—Spencer F. Baird	181
Figure 2.—Robert Kennicott	187
Figure 3.—Extract from Kennicott's field ledger	188
Figure 4.—Caribou hide tunic	189
Figure 5.—Flag of the Western Union "Scientific Corps"	190
Figure 6.—"Kegikowruk in the Fall"	191
Figure 7.—Edward W. Nelson on one of his trips up the Yukon River, ca. 1880 . . .	192
Figure 8.—"Native village [Gambell] on SW. Point of St Lawrence Is. Copied from sketch by J[ohn] Muir, Summer 1881"	193
Figure 9.—Ingaliks from Lower Yukon, 1880	193
Figure 10.—Norton Sound kayak hunting photographed by Edward W. Nelson and hunting visor collected from this hunter	194
At the Cutting Edge: Patchwork and the Process of Artistic Innovation, Sally Price
Figure 1.—Flow chart constructed by Donna Kathleen Abbas and William C. Sturtevant, 1969	242
Figure 2.—A Dutch explorer with his Saramaka guides, 1908	244
Figure 3.—Detail of cloth collected in the 1890s	245
Figure 4.—Saramaka cape, sewn between 1900 and 1910	246
Figure 5.—Bits-and-pieces cape, sewn between 1920 and 1940	247
Figure 6.—Saramaka cape, probably sewn in the 1960s or early 1970s	248
Figure 7.—Cape with cross-stitch embroidery, sewn between 1960 and 1965	249
Figure 8.—Cape and breechcloth with cross-stitch embroidery, sewn in the 1970s . .	250
Figure 9.—Top of two-piece calabash container	251
Figure 10.—Saramaka calabash bowl, 1970s	251
European Motifs in Protohistoric Iroquois Art, Edmund Carpenter
Figure 1.—Two antler figurines	256
Figure 2.—Mezzotint Sa Ga Yeath Qua Pieth Tow, King of the Maquas (Mohawks), London, 1710	257
Figure 3.—Effigy comb of antler	258
Figure 4.—Petroglyph at Esopus Landing, New York	259
Figure 5.—Effigy comb of antler, horse, and rider	259
Figure 6.—European white clay pipe	259
Figure 7.—Cast-iron handle with pewter shaft	260
Quilled Knife Cases from Northeastern North America, Christian F. Feest
Figure 1.—"An Indian dress'd for war with a scalp," 1759	265
Figure 2.—Chief Oshkosh wearing a double knife case	267
Figure 3.—"Bad Hail, Chief of the Sioux nation Minnesota Territory October 1852"	268

Figure 4.—Knife case with decoration of woven and appliqué quillwork and moosehair. 270

Figure 5.—Knife case with porcupine quill embroidery on birch-bark reinforcement. 270

Figure 6.—Knife case with two-lane quill-wrapped panel and “zipper” edging in white glass beads. 270

Figure 7.—Knife and knife case with appliqué quillwork 272

Figure 8.—Single knife case with appliqué quillwork 272

Figure 9.—Single knife case with asymmetrical appliqué quillwork 273

Figure 10.—Belt-worn knife case with moosehair embroidery and porcupine quill appliqué 273

Pabookowaih Unmasked, William N. Fenton and Donald B. Smith

Figure 1.—Full-face, profile, and back views of the mask at Blantyre, Scotland 280–281

Figure 2.—Two comparable Munsee (Delaware) masks 282

Figure 3.—Pabookowaih of Rev. Peter Jones, after the original. 283

The Munich Chukchi Collection, Jean-Loup Rousselot

Figure 1.—Two reindeer toys 297

Figure 2.—Fire board 298

Figure 3.—Fish lure with rod to attract fish 299

Figure 4.—Leather pouch to carry human urine. 299

Figure 5.—Needle case with thimble holder. 299

Figure 6.—A cook at work at a Chukchi camp. 300

The Distribution and Habits of the Ringed Seal and Central Eskimo Settlement Patterns, David Damas

Figure 1.—Central Eskimo utilization of the ringed seal 326