

The Anthropology of Security

Perspectives from the Frontline of Policing,
Counter-terrorism and Border Control

Edited by Mark Maguire,
Catarina Frois and Nils Zurawski

Sondersammelgebiet
Volks- & Völkerkunde

in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

Pluto Press
www.plutobooks.com

Contents

List of Figures	vii
Acknowledgements	viii
Series Preface	ix
Introduction
The Anthropology of Security: Prospects, Retrospects and Aims Mark Maguire, Catarina Frois and Nils Zurawski	1
1 Sarkozy and Roma: Performing Securitisation Marion Demossier	24
2 Video-surveillance and the Political Use of Discretionary Power in the Name of Security and Defence Catarina Frois	45
3 Location, Isolation and Disempowerment: The Swift Proliferation of Security Discourse among Policy Professionals Greg Feldman	62
4 Compensating (In)Security: Anthropological Perspectives on Internal Security Alexandra Schwell	83
5 Petty States of Exception: The Contemporary Policing of the Urban Poor Didier Fassin	104
6 Counter-terrorism in European Airports Mark Maguire	118
7 Whose Security? The Deportation of Foreign-national Offenders from the UK Ines Hasselberg	139
8 Grey Zones of Illegality: Inhuman Conditions in Receiving Irregular Migrants in Greece Jutta Lauth Bacas	158
Conclusions Mark Maguire, Catarina Frois and Nils Zurawski	183

Afterword

Security: Encounters, Misunderstanding and Possible Collaborations 189

Didier Bigo

Contributors 206

Index 207