

Elites

Choice, Leadership and Succession

Edited by

João de Pina-Cabral and Antónia Pedroso de Lima

Oxford · New York

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Notes on Contributors	ix
Introduction	1
João de Pina-Cabral
Part I Dynastic Sentiments
1 The Deep Legacies of Dynastic Subjectivity: The Resonances of a Famous Family Identity in Private and Public Spheres George E. Marcus	9
2 'How Did I Become a Leader in My Family Firm?' Assets for Succession in Contemporary Lisbon Financial Elites Antónia Pedroso de Lima	31
3 Patriarchal Desire: Law and Sentiments of Succession in Italian Capitalist Families Sylvia Yanagisako	53
Part II Choice and Tradition
4 Elite Succession among the Matrilineal Akan of Ghana Nana Arhin Brempong	75
5 'Tradition' versus 'Politics': Succession Conflicts in a Chiefdom of North-western Ghana Carola Lentz	91

6	Making the Chief: An Examination of Why Fijian Chiefs Have To Be Elected Christina Toren	113
---	--	-----

Part III House and Heir

7	Aristocratic Succession in Portugal (From the Sixteenth to the Nineteenth Centuries) Nuno Gonçalo Monteiro	133
8	Family, Power and Property: Ascendancy and Decline of a Rural Elite José Manuel Sobral	149

Part IV Monopolies and Enclaves

9	Re-serving Succession in a British Enclave Jean Lave	167
10	How Do the Macanese Achieve Collective Action? João de Pina-Cabral	201
11	Uncanny Success: Some Closing Remarks Michael Herzfeld	227

	Bibliography	237
--	---------------------	-----

	Index	249
--	--------------	-----