Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction: An Overview 1

Simon Ottenberg and David A. Binkley

Part 1: Integrated Masquerades

1. Ndômô Ritual and Sogo bò Play: Boy’s Masquerading among the Bamana of Mali 49

Mary Jo Arnoldi

2. Boys and Masks among the Dogon 67

Walter E. A. van Beek

3. Gender Differences and Performance Styles in Òjìja among Children in Two Ekeiti Towns 89

John R. O. Ojo

Part 2: Emulating Masquerades

4. From Grasshopper to Babende: The Socialization of Southern Kuba Boys to Masquerade 105

David A. Binkley

5. Emulation in Boys’ Masquerades: The Afikpo Case 117

Simon Ottenberg

6. Omepa and Onyeweh Children’s Masquerades 129

Robert W. Nicholls

7. Three Points of View of Masquerades among the Ijo of the Niger River Delta 151

Anna A. Hlavácová

8. At the Threshold: Childhood Masking in Umuoji and Umahia 159

Chika O. Okeke

Part 3: Independent Masquerades

9. The Alikali Devils of Sierra Leone: Play, Performance, and Social Commentary 167

Jeanne Cannizzo
10. Masked Children in an Urban Scene: The Bissau Carnival
   Based on the writings of Manuel Rambout Barcelos, Nicolau Fara Gomes, Felix Siga, and Harriet C. McGuire;
   edited with additional comments by Simon Ottenberg

11. The Dodo Masquerade of Ouagadougou
    Priscilla Baird Hinckley

Part 4: Girls’ Masquerading

12. Kalumbu and Chisudzo: Boys’ and Girls’ Masquerades
    among the Chewa
    Kenji Yoshida

13. Playing with the Future: Children and Rituals in North-Western Province, Zambia
    Elisabeth L. Cameron and Manuel A. Jordán

Contributors

Index

Illustrations follow page