

Advertising Cultures

Edited by Timothy deWaal Malefyt and
Brian Moeran

Oxford • New York

Contents

Preface	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
Foreword: A Word from our Sponsor – Anthropology John F. Sherry, Jr	xi
Introduction: Advertising Cultures – Advertising, Ethnography and Anthropology Timothy D. Malefyt and Brian Moeran	1
1 How Advertising Makes its Object Steven Kemper	35
2 Critical Publicity/Public Criticism: Reflections on Fieldwork in the Bombay Ad World William Mazzarella	55
3 Advertising, Production and Consumption as Cultural Economy Daniel Miller	75
4 Imagining and Imaging the Other: Japanese Advertising International Brian Moeran	91
5 The Revolution in Marketing Intimate Apparel: A Narrative Ethnography Barbara Olsen	113
6 Models, Metaphors and Client Relations: The Negotiated Meanings of Advertising Timothy D. Malefyt	139
7 Fame and the Ordinary: ‘Authentic’ Constructions Of Convenience Foods Marianne Elisabeth Lien	165

Contents

8	Psychology vs Anthropology: Where is Culture in Marketplace Ethnography?
	Patricia L. Sunderland and Rita M. Denny	187
	Afterword: Looking Forward, Looking Back
	Marietta L. Baba	203
	List of Contributors	207
	Index	211