

SPONTANEOUS SHRINES AND
THE PUBLIC MEMORIALIZATION
OF DEATH

---

EDITED BY
JACK SANTINO

palgrave
macmillan

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
Introduction Jack Santino	1
1 Performative Commemoratives: Spontaneous Shrines and the Public Memorialization of Death Jack Santino	5
2 Communicative Commemoration and Graveside Shrines: Princess Diana, Jim Morrison, My “Bro” Max, and Boogs the Cat Jeannie Banks Thomas	17
3 Mourning in Protest: Spontaneous Memorials and the Sacralization of Public Space Harriet F. Senie	41
4 “We’ll Watch Out for Liza and The Kids”: Spontaneous Memorials and Personal Response at the Pentagon, 2001 Margaret R. Yocom	57
5 Oh Did You See the Ashes Come Thickly Falling Down? Poems Posted in the Wake of September 11 Steve Zeitlin	99
6 Louisiana Roadside Memorials: Negotiating an Emerging Tradition Maida Owens	119
7 “Like a Trace”: The Spontaneous Shrine as a Cultural Expression of Grief Hege Westgaard	147

8	A Memorial Wall in Philadelphia Jonathan Lohman	177
9	Twelve Aggie Angels: Content Analysis of the Spontaneous Shrines Following the 1999 Bonfire Collapse at Texas A&M University Sylvia Grider	215
10	“The Call of the Ice”: Tragedy and Vernacular Responses of Resistance, Heroic Reconstruction, and Reclamation Diane E. Goldstein and Diane Tye	233
11	The Missing and Photography: The Uses and Misuses of Globalization Ariel Dorfman	255
12	El Dia de los Muertos in the USA: Cultural Ritual as Political Communication Regina Marchi	261
13	Signifying Places of Atrocity Ralph Hartley	285
14	Forty Years of Conflict: State, Church, and Spontaneous Representation of Massacres and Murder in Guatemala Matthew J. Taylor and Michael K. Steinberg	305
15	Trains of Workers, Trains of Death: Some Reflections after the March 11 Attacks in Madrid Cristina Sánchez-Carretero	333
	Contributors	349
	Index	355