

Commemorations

---

THE POLITICS OF
NATIONAL IDENTITY

Edited by John R. Gillis

PRINCETON UNIVERSITY PRESS
PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY

CONTENTS

---

Acknowledgments	ix
Notes on Contributors	xi
INTRODUCTION
John R. Gillis Memory and Identity: The History of a Relationship	3
PART ONE: The Problem of Identity and Memory
CHAPTER I
Richard Handler Is “Identity” a Useful Cross-Cultural Concept?	27
CHAPTER II
David Lowenthal Identity, Heritage, and History	41
PART TWO: Memory in the Construction of National Identities
CHAPTER III
David Cressy National Memory in Early Modern England	61
CHAPTER IV
John Bodnar Public Memory in an American City: Commemoration in Cleveland	74
CHAPTER V
Eric Davis The Museum and the Politics of Social Control in Modern Iraq	90
CHAPTER VI
Yael Zerubavel The Historic, the Legendary, and the Incredible: Invented Tradition and Collective Memory in Israel	105
PART THREE: Memories of War and Wars over Memory
CHAPTER VII
Kirk Savage The Politics of Memory: Black Emancipation and the Civil War Monument	127