

HANDBOOK
of
AMERICAN FOLKLORE

EDITED BY

Richard M. Dorson

INDIANA UNIVERSITY PRESS • Bloomington

Contents

Preface—Richard M. Dorson	ix
Introduction—W. Edson Richmond	xi

PART I. TOPICS OF RESEARCH

American Experiences	1
Colonizing a New Society— William D. Piersen	4
Finding the Way Home: The Interpretation of American Indian Folklore— Elaine Jahner	11
The Unfulfilled Promise of North American Indian Folklore— George Lankford	18
Afro-American Folk Music— Ronald R. Smith	24
The Westward Movement— Thomas D. Clark	32
Studying Immigrant and Ethnic Folklore— Barbara Kirshenblatt-Gimblett	39
The Legacy of Early Afro-American Folklore Scholarship— Adrienne Lanier Seward	48
American Cultural Myths	57
The Noble and Ignoble Savage— Wilcomb E. Washburn	60
Rags to Riches— Robert H. Walker	67
Fables of Innocence— David W. Marcell	73
The Myth of the American Adam— Giles Gunn	79
American Settings	86
In the Family Tradition— Amy J. Kotkin and Steven J. Zeitlin	90
A Family's Repertoire— Leonard Roberts	100

The Folklore of Students— Ronald L. Baker	106
Office Folklore— Alan Dundes	115
Factory Folklore— Bruce E. Nickerson	121
Occupational Folklore: The Outdoor Industries— Roger Mitchell	128
The Folk Church: Institution, Event, Performance— William M. Clements	136
The Black Folk Church— William H. Wiggins, Jr.	145
Mormon Folklore— William A. Wilson	155
Urban Folklore— Gerald Warshaver	162
Suburban Folklore— Richard A. Reuss	172
“Hanging Out”: Recreational Folklore in Everyday Life— James P. Leary	178
Regional Folkloristics— William E. Lightfoot	183
The Southwest: A Regional Case Study— Marta Weigle	194
Regional Folk Speech and Sayings— Jan Harold Brunvand	201
The Study of Regional Songs and Ballads— Edward D. Ives	208
Folklore, Social Conflict, and the United States-Mexico Border— José E. Limón	216
Folklore of the Canadian-American Border— Robert B. Klymasz	227
Americanization of Folklore in U.S. Possessions and Territories— Roger Mitchell	233
 American Entertainments	 237
Festival in America— Beverly J. Stoeltje	239
Folklore on the American Stage— Robert C. Toll	247
American Sports and Folklore— Elizabeth Peterson	257
 American Forms and Performers	 265
Personal Experience Stories— Sandra K. D. Stahl	268
Conversational Genres— Sally Yerkovich	277
Folk Singers and Musicians— David Evans	282
Folktale Performers— Richard M. Dorson	287
Folk Craftsmen— John Michael Vlach	301
Folk Healers— David J. Hufford	306
Children’s Folklore— John H. McDowell	314
 PART II. INTERPRETATION OF RESEARCH	 323
A Historical Theory for American Folklore— Richard M. Dorson	326
How to Interpret American Folklore Historically— Lawrence W. Levine	338

Contents

vii

Interpreting Folklore Ethnographically and Sociologically— Roger D. Abrahams	345
Interpreting Folklore Ideologically— Archie Green	351

PART III. METHODS OF RESEARCH 359

The Field Study of Folklore in Context— Richard Bauman	362
Collecting Musical Folklore and Folksong— D. K. Wilgus	369
Folkloristic Study of the American Artifact: Objects and Objectives— Henry Glassie	376
Sound Recording and Still Photography in the Field— Carl Fleischhauer	384
Using a Folklore Archive— Janet Langlois and Philip LaRonge	391
Using Video in the Field— Richard Blaustein	397
Folklore Research and Museums— Willard B. Moore	402
Studying American Folklore in Printed Sources— Francis A. de Caro	411
Studying Folklore and American Literature— Sandra K. D. Stahl	422
Sound Recordings, Use and Challenge— Archie Green	434
Studying American Folkloric Films— Sharon R. Sherman	441
Bibliographies and Indexes in American Folklore Research— Angela J. Maniak	447
Folklorists at Work: A Portfolio from the American Folklife Center— Carl Fleischhauer	452

PART IV. PRESENTATION OF RESEARCH 459

Teaching Folklore to Graduate Students: The Introductory Proseminar— Richard M. Dorson	463
Teaching Folklore in American Colleges and Universities— Ronald L. Baker	470
The Publication of Research— Richard M. Dorson	478
Indexing a Folklore Collection: Balance, Flexibility, and the Empathizing Indexer— Michael Edward Bell	486
Developing a Folklore Archive— Joseph C. Hickerson	493
Organizing a Folklore Museum— Ormond H. Loomis	499
Filming the Folk— George Carey	507
Video in the Classroom and Community Outreach Projects— Richard Blaustein	513
Developing a State Folklife Program— Charles Camp	518
Folk Is a Four-Letter Word: Dealing with Traditional * * * * in Fieldwork, Analysis, and Presentation— Rayna Green	525
Ethics and the Folklorist— Wm. Hugh Jansen	533
Bibliography	541
Contributors	565
Index	569