

Communities and Capital

Local Struggles against Corporate Power and Privatization

Edited by Thomas W. Collins and John D. Wingard

Southern Anthropological Society Proceedings, No. 33
Michael V. Angrosino, Series Editor

The University of Georgia Press
Athens and London

Contents

Introduction Thomas W. Collins	1
Finding Alternatives to Privatizing the Resource: Community-Focused Management for Marine Fisheries John D. Wingard	5
Down on the Clam Farm: Aquaculture, Privatization, and Sacred Space in the Core Banks Shellfish Lease Controversy, North Carolina Barbara J. Garrity-Blake	30
Licenses and Livelihoods: Changing Fishing Economy in a Malay Village Margaret W. Kedia	40
Grassroots Development Strategies in the Azuerro Peninsula of Panama John R. Bort and James C. Sabella	52
Local Stratagems, Global Spoils: Monopoly Power and Contract Farming in the Belize Banana Industry Mark Moberg	69
Marshalltown, Iowa, and the Struggle for Community in a Global Age Mark A. Grey	87
Deindustrialization, Job Displacement, and Contested Ideology of Work in a Southern Town Tara Skipper	101
The Periphery in the Center: The View from Public Housing in Memphis David T. Spangler	114

Challenging Market-Based Health Care Reforms in New York City: Community Health Centers, Public Hospitals, and Grassroots Advocates Sara R. Collins	129
List of Contributors	149