

LEARNING FROM THE CHILDREN

Childhood, Culture and Identity in a Changing World

Edited by

Jacqueline Waldren and Ignacy-Marek Kaminski

Sondersammelgebiet
Volks- & Völkerkunde
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

berghahn
NEW YORK • OXFORD
www.berghahnbooks.com

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
Preface	xi
Introduction	1
Jacqueline Waldren and Ignacy-Marek Kaminski
Part I. CHANGING NORMS
1. Invisible Routes, Invisible Lives: The Multiple Worlds of Runaway and Missing Women and Girls in Upper Sindh, Pakistan	19
Nafisa Shah
2. Education, Tradition and Modernization: Bedouin Girls in Israel	35
Sarab Abu-Rabia-Queder
Part II. LISTENING AND LEARNING
3. More than One Rung on the Career Ladder: Examining Barriers to the Labour Market for Young Women Living in Poverty	53
Lucy Russell and Louisa Darian
4. 'We're Not Poor – The Others Are': Talking with Children about Poverty and Social Exclusion in Milton Keynes, England	70
Anna Lærke
5. Dancing with an Angel: What I Have Learnt from My 'Special Needs' Daughter, Elisa	83
Elsa L. Dawson

6. Being Parented? Children and Young People's Engagement with Parenting Activities 92
Julie Seymour and Sally McNamee

Part III. CROSS-CULTURAL MOBILITY

7. Children's Moving Stories: How the Children of British Lifestyle Migrants Cope with Super-Diversity 111
Karen O'Reilly
8. Children Negotiating Identity in Mallorca 126
Jacqueline Waldren
9. Identity without Birthright: Negotiating Children's Citizenship and Identity in Cross-Cultural Bureaucracy 146
Ignacy-Marek Kaminski
10. Doing Fieldwork with Children in Japan 170
Roger Goodman
- Notes on Contributors 179
- Index 183