

Superheroes and Identities

Edited by

Mel Gibson, David Huxley and Joan Ormrod

Sondersammelgebiet
Volks- & Völkerkunde
In Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

Contents

Citation Information	vii
Superheroes and Identities: An Introduction Mel Gibson, David Huxley and Joan Ormrod	1
Section 1 – Race
1. The Ku Klux Klan and the birth of the superhero Chris Gavalier	17
2. The absence of black supervillains in mainstream comics Phillip Lamarr Cunningham	35
3. Islam’s Trojan horse: battling perceptions of Muslim women in The 99 Shirin Edwin	47
Section 2 – Narrative and the Development of Superhero Identities
4. The pursuit of identity in the face of paradox: indeterminacy, structure and repetition in Superman, Batman and Wonder Woman Clare Pitkethly	77
5. The Dark Knight under revision Molly Hatcher	85
Section 3 – Boys and Girls
6. Scott Pilgrim vs. hegemony: nostalgia, remediation, and heteronormativity Ryan Lizardi	107
7. Good Girl Art – facing images of women in David Mack’s Kabuki Frida Beckman	119
8. Who does she think she is? Female comic-book characters, second-wave feminism, and feminist film theory Mel Gibson	135
9. Seeing double: the transforming personalities of Alan Moore’s Promethea and the Ulster Cycle ’s Cuchulain Hannah Means-Shannon	147

CONTENTS

10. The body unbound: Empowered , heroism and body image Ruth J. Beerman	159
Section 4 – Supermoms
11. The feminine mystique: feminism, sexuality, motherhood Ross Murray	173
12. Supermoms? Maternity and the monstrous-feminine in superhero comics Jeffrey A. Brown	185
Section 5 – Queer
13. Hero of the beach: Flex Mentallo at the end of the worlds Will Brooker	197
14. Queer resistance, gender performance, and ‘coming out’ of the panel borders in Greg Rucka and J.H. Williams III’s Batwoman: Elegy Paul Petrovic	211
Section 6 – Audiences, Reception, Fandom
15. From fan appropriation to industry re-appropriation: the sexual identity of comic superheroes Gemma Corin and Gareth Schott	221
16. Captain America in the news: changing mediascapes and the appropriation of a superhero Jason Dittmer	235
17. Altered egos: gay men reading across gender difference in Wonder Woman Andrew R. Spieldenner	251
18. ‘Nice Cape, Super Faggot!’ Male adolescent identity crises in young adult graphic novels Mark Malaby and Melissa Esh	261
Index	277