

London the Promised Land Revisited

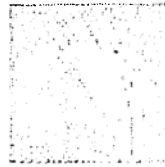

The Changing Face of the London Migrant
Landscape in the Early 21st Century

Edited by

ANNE J. KERSHEN

Queen Mary University of London, UK

Sondersammelgebiet
Volks- & Völkerkunde
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

ASHGATE

Contents

List of Figures	vii
Notes on Contributors	ix
Acknowledgements	xv
Foreword by Philip E. Ogden	xvii
1 Introduction: London the Promised Land Revisited: The Migrant Landscape in the 21st Century Anne J. Kershen	1
2 London's Migrant Landscape in the 21st Century Anne J. Kershen	11
3 The Ethnic Marketplace as Point of Transition Laura Vaughan	35
4 Knowing our Communities: It Doesn't Have to be that Difficult Michael Keating	55
5 London's 'Ghosts': The Capital and the UK Policy of Destitution of Refused Asylum-Seekers Tendayi Bloom	77
6 Undocumented and Unseen: The Making of the Everyday in the Global Metropolis of London 2015 Parvati Nair	97
7 Who Speaks for the Subaltern in a Postcolonial Metropolis? Representing the Lives of Migrants in London through Novels, Films and Oral History John Eade	113
8 Migrants and Descendants: Multi-Generations of the Irish in London in the 21st Century Bronwen Walter	127

9	London as an Informal and Individualistic Paradise? Transnationalism as a Form of Anti-State Resistance by Polish Migrants in London Michał P. Garapich	147
10	Latin London: Negotiating Invisibility among Latin Americans in London Cathy McIlwaine	167
11	Ethnicity and Culture in 21st Century Medicine Veronica L.C. White	187
12	The Presence and Treatment of Infection in the Migrant Population of London Jane Anderson	209
13	Afterword Anne J. Kershen	227
	Index	231