
Edited by

Evrick Brown and Timothy Shortell

Walking in Cities

Quotidian Mobility as Urban Theory, Method, and Practice

Sondersammelgebiet
Volks- & Völkerkunde

in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

TEMPLE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Philadelphia • Rome • Tokyo

Contents

List of Figures and Tables	vii
1 Introduction: Walking as Urban Practice and Research Method • Timothy Shortell	1
PART I. RACE AND ETHNICITY
2 Walking in the Multicultural City: The Production of Suburban Street Life in Sydney • Rebecca Williamson	23
3 Race and the Politics of Space: Doing Walking Ethnography in Urban Chicago • Shanshan Lan	43
4 Walking through Contemporary North American Barrios: Hispanic Neighborhoods in New York, San Diego, and El Paso • Ernesto Castañeda, Kevin Beck, and Josué Lachica	60
PART II. GENDER
5 The Emancipated Flâneuse in Tehran's Shopping Malls • Nazgol Bagheri	83
6 The Doughnut Hole Experience: Using a Discerning Eye while Walking in Cities • Marlese Durr	100
PART III. SOCIAL CLASS
7 "Just Going Down the Street": Constructing Community through Everyday Movements • Michelle Hall	121

8	Encountering the “Old and New” Kids on the Block: Walking in the Neighborhood • Judith N. DeSena	137
9	From Shipping to Shopping: Providence’s Capital Center, Nervous Landscapes, and a Phenomenological Analysis of Walkability • Kristen A. Williams	153
PART IV. POLITICS AND POWER
10	Geography, Planning, and Performing Mobility in New Orleans • Amber N. Wiley	177
11	Mobility Method and the Ethnic Community: Walking and Community Activism • Evrick Brown	197
12	Walking as a Mobile Practice: Landscape and Public Protests in Washington, D.C. • Paul R. Watts	213
13	Walking, Social Movements, and Arts Activities in the United States, Canada, and France • Brian B. Knudsen, Terry Nichols Clark, and Daniel Silver	229
	Contributors	247
	Index	251