

Migration of Rich Immigrants

Gender, Ethnicity, and Class

Edited by
Alex Vailati and Carmen Rial

Sondersammelgebiet Volks- & Völkerkunde

in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

palgrave
macmillan

Contents

List of Figures and Table	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction Alex Vailati and Carmen Rial	1
Part I Places
Chapter 1 Moving to Lisbon: Labor, Lust, and Leisure Cristiana Bastos	15
Chapter 2 Brazilian Taste: Reflections on Brazilian Restaurants in Greater Boston Viviane Kraieski de Assunção	37
Chapter 3 Ethnic Immigrant Entrepreneurs in Place d'Italie, Paris Carmen Rial and Miriam Grossi	57
Part II Mobilities
Chapter 4 Muslim Arab Immigrants in Southern Brazil: Projects and Trajectories Cláudia Voigt Espinola	85
Chapter 5 Revisiting Palestinian Migration and Social Mobility in Honduras: The Caribbean Coast and Family and Kinship Relations Lirio Gutiérrez Rivera	99

Chapter 6	The Implications of Socioeconomic Background for Moroccan Transnational Family Practices Caroline Zickgraf	117
-----------	--	-----

Part III Paths

Chapter 7	Narrating Multiple Mobilities of Start-Up Founders Katrin Sontag	147
Chapter 8	Why Did You Move to Ireland? Karine Dalsin	163
Chapter 9	Views of Migrants and Foreign Residents: A Comparative European Perspective Giuliana B. Prato	179
Conclusion	Why Do Rich People Migrate? Ruben George Oliven	199
	List of Contributors	205
	Index	207