

Global South Ethnographies

Minding the Senses

Edited by

elke emerald

Griffith University, Australia

Robert E. Rinehart

University of Waikato, New Zealand

and

Antonio Garcia

Universidad de Santiago de Chile, Chile

Sondersamfundet

Volks- & Volkerkunde

in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

SENSE PUBLISHERS
ROTTERDAM/BOSTON/TAIPEI

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	ix
List of Figures	xi
1. Minding the Senses in Global South Ethnographies: Expanding Worldviews Robert E. Rinehart and elke emerald	1
Section 1: Emerging Methods
2. Ethnography across Storytelling and the Senses D. Soyini Madison	21
3. Humor Takes the Stage: A Performance of Couples' Humor Wendy Talbot	31
4. 'Since Feeling Is First': Poetry and Research Supervision Katie Fitzpatrick and Esther Fitzpatrick	59
5. Environmental Art: A Creative Response to Economic Catastrophe John Dahlsen	71
Section 2: Praxis: The Sensory in Lived Worlds
6. From Myth and Legend to Reality: Voyages of Rediscovery and Knowledge Hoturoa Barclay-Kerr	87
7. From Drunken-Sage to Artiste, the Many Lives of the Tibetan Dekar Harmony Siganporia	93
8. Mothers and Food: Performing the Family Mealtime Rachel Lamdin Hunter and Kahurangi Dey	103
9. Pehea ka 'Aha a kāua? How Is Our Rope? Ethnographic Practices from Behind, In Front of, and In the 'Aha Emalani Case	113
Section 3: Transformations in Social Justice: Theoretically Embodied Visions
10. Place-Responsive Choreography and Activism Karen Barbour	127

TABLE OF CONTENTS

11. Spinning Wheel Very Pretty: Cybridity and the Cyborg Academic lisahunter	147
12. The Heartlines in Your Hand: Writing Autoethnography with Hélène Cixous and Virginia Woolf Elizabeth Mackinlay	153
Section 4: The Sensual in Latin America: Writing in the Boundary between Spanish and English
13. Foreign and Yours: Writing in the Boundary between Spanish and English Antonio Garcia	169
14. My “Third World” in Three Words: Performative Writing from the Perspective of a Latin-American Woman Pamela Zapata-Sepúlveda	175
15. ‘Passing’—and ‘Failing’—in Latin America: Methodological Reflections on Linguacultural Identity Phiona Stanley	185
Section 5: Autoethnographic Voices in the Global South
16. Who Is Eye? An Autoethnographic View on Higher Educational Spaces from a Pasifika girl Fetaui Iosefo	199
17. The Transformative Experiences of Cultural Healing: An Autoethnography of Kaupapa Māori Melissa Carey	209
18. Postscript: The Place of the Sensory in Contemporary Ethnographies elke emerald and Robert E. Rinehart	221
About the Authors	237