
Schools and Styles of Anthropological Theory

Edited by Matei Candea

THE ANTHROPOLOGICAL THEORY
IN THE 21ST CENTURY
IN THE 21ST CENTURY
IN THE 21ST CENTURY

Contents

List of figures	ix
Introduction: Echoes of a conversation MATEI CANDEA	1
1 Severed roots: Evolutionism, diffusionism and (structural-)functionalism MATEI CANDEA	18
2 Structuralism RUPERT STASCH	60
3 Marxism and neo-Marxism CAROLINE HUMPHREY	79
4 From transactionalism to practice theory DAVID SNEATH	91
5 Anthropology and history SUSAN BAYLY	108
6 From the extended-case method to multi-sited ethnography (and back) HARRI ENGLUND	121
7 Cognitive anthropology as epistemological critique RICHARD D.G. IRVINE	134
8 Interpretive cultural anthropology: Geertz and his 'writing-culture' critics JAMES LAIDLAW	148

9	The Frankfurt School, critical theory and anthropology CHRISTOS LYNTERIS	159
10	The anthropological lives of Michel Foucault JAMES LAIDLAW	173
11	From 'the body' to 'embodiment', with help from phenomenology MARYON MCDONALD	185
12	Feminist anthropology and the question of gender JESSICA JOHNSON	195
13	No actor, no network, no theory: Bruno Latour's anthropology of the moderns MATEI CANDEA	209
14	The ontological turn: School or style? PAOLO HEYWOOD	224
15	Persons and partible persons MARILYN STRATHERN	236
	Index	247