

Love in the Time of Ethnography

Essays on Connection as a Focus and Basis for Research

Edited by Lucinda Carspecken

FIP SOZIAL- UND
KULTURANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

LEXINGTON BOOKS
Lanham • Boulder • New York • London

Contents

Introduction: Love in the Time of Ethnography Lucinda Carspecken	1
I: Exploring the Concept of Love	15
1 Love in/of Nature: Biophilia, Topophilia, and Solastalgia Leslie E. Sponsel	17
2 Ethical Openness in Turkey: An Alevi-Sunni Love Story Lucinda Carspecken	35
3 The Indignation of Cariño : A Comparative Analysis of Movement Making Among Unapologetic Youth Felipe Vargas	59
II: Selves and Others	79
4 Love Lost and Found: A Sentimental History of American Medical Missionaries in China, 1905–1951 Ian Skoggard	81
5 The Face You Wore: Remembering Who We Are in the Face of Dementia Michael Verde	101
6 We Are All Ships Coming Home to Ourselves: An Autoethnographic Poem in Two Parts Jana Clark and Barbara Dennis	115
7 The Honor of Loving Service: Caring for Our Muslim Baba Frances Trix	127

III: Love as a Way of Knowing	145
8 Love in the Field: Reflections on the Role of Emotion in Qualitative Data Collection Rachelle Winkle-Wagner	147
9 Rethinking “Research”: Insights from Zen Buddhism on Self, Compassion, and Freedom Peiwei Li	165
10 Love, Forgiveness, and Ethnographic Poetry: Written with Love From a Passing Train, Adam Henze   Metanoia; Violence, Love, and Forgiveness in Ethnographic Writing, Phil Francis Carspecken	189
Conclusion: Love and Text Lucinda Carspecken	223
Index	229
About the Contributors	237