

André Krebber • Mieke Roscher
Editors

Animal Biography

Re-framing Animal Lives

palgrave
macmillan

CONTENTS

1 Introduction: Biographies, Animals and Individuality	1
André Krebber and Mieke Roscher
Part I Explorations	17
2 Living, Biting Monitors, a Morose Howler and Other Infamous Animals: Animal Biographies in Ethology and Zoo Biology	19
Matthew Chrulew
3 Finding a Man and his Horse in the Archive?	41
Hilda Kean
4 Recovering and Reconstructing Animal Selves in Literary Autozoographies	57
Frederike Middelhoff
Part II Reflections	81
5 A Dog's Life: The Challenges and Possibilities of Animal Biography	83
Aaron Skabelund

6	“We Know Them All”: Does It Make Sense to Create a Collective Biography of the European Bison?	103
	Markus Krzoska
7	Animal Life Stories; or, the Making of Animal Subjects in Primatological Narratives of Fieldwork	119
	Mira Shah
Part III	Constructions	139
8	Taxidermy’s Literary Biographies	141
	Susan McHugh
9	Caesar: The Rise and Dawn of a Humanimalistic Identity	161
	Daniel Wolf
10	Postscript, Posthuman: Werner Herzog’s “Crocodile” at the End of the World	185
	Dominic O’Key
Part IV	Experiments	205
11	The Elephant’s I: Looking for Abu’l Abbas	207
	Radhika Subramaniam
12	Topsy: The Elephant We Must Never Forget	227
	Kim Stallwood
13	Online Animal (Auto-)Biographies: What Does It Mean When We “Give Animals a Voice?”	243
	Margo DeMello
Index		261