

ANU LOUNELA, EEVA BERGLUND, TIMO KALLINEN

Dwelling in Political Landscapes

Contemporary Anthropological Perspectives

FID SOZIAL- UND
KULTURANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

Finnish Literature Society • SKS • Helsinki • 2019

Contents

Acknowledgements 7

EEVA BERGLUND, ANU LOUNELA AND TIMO KALLINEN
Landscape is not what it used to be: Anthropology and the politics of environmental change 8

ANNA TSING
The buck, the bull, and the dream of the stag: Some unexpected weeds of the Anthropocene 33

ANU LOUNELA
Erasing memories and commodifying futures within the Central Kalimantan landscape 53

JOONAS PLAAN
Knowing and perceiving the seascape: Local knowledge,
human-environment interactions and materiality on Kihnu Island,
Estonia 74

JENNI MÖLKÄNEN
Making sense of conserved landscapes: From intimate landscapes to new potentialities and differences 90

FRANCESCO ZANOTELLI AND CRISTIANO TALLÈ
The political side of the landscape: Environmental and cosmological conflicts from the Huave point of view 110

TIINA JÄRVI
Marking landscape, claiming belonging: The building of a Jewish homeland in Israel/Palestine 134

MORGAN MOFFITT
The enduring imaginary of the 'northern frontier': Attending to stories about entangled landscapes 154

JASMIN IMMONEN

Ephemeral landscapes: Contrasting moralities in a city of sand 175

EEVA BERGLUND

Troubled landscapes of change: Limits and natures in grassroots urbanism 196

KATJA UUSIHAKALA

“God’s own country”: Temporalities of landscape in postcolonial nostalgia 213

PHILIPPE DESCOLA

Landscape as transfiguration: Edward Westermarck memorial lecture, October 2015 235

TUOMAS TAMMISTO

Making temporal environments: Work, places and history in the Mengen landscape 247

JASON M. BROWN

Worlds and worldviews: Resource management, re-enchantment and landscape 264

List of Contributors 284

Abstract 288

Index 291