

Cultural Genocide

Law, Politics, and Global Manifestations

Edited by Jeffrey S. Bachman

Contents

Notes on contributors	vii
Acknowledgments	ix

Introduction: bringing cultural genocide into the mainstream	1
JEFFREY S. BACHMAN

PART I

Cultural genocide in international law	19
---	----

1 Raphaël Lemkin: culture and cultural genocide	21
DOUGLAS IRVIN-ERICKSON

2 An historical perspective: the exclusion of cultural genocide from the genocide convention	45
JEFFREY S. BACHMAN

3 A modern perspective: the current status of cultural genocide under international law	62
DAVID NERSESSIAN

PART II

Global manifestations of cultural genocide	93
---	----

Section one: settler colonialism, forced assimilation, and indigenous genocide	95
---	----

4 Destroying Indigenous cultures in the United States	97
LAUREN CARASIK AND JEFFREY S. BACHMAN

5	Genocide and settler colonialism: how a Lemkinian concept of genocide informs our understanding of the ongoing situation of the Guarani Kaiowá in Mato Grosso do Sul, Brazil	118
	GENNA NACCACHE
6	A political economy of genocide in Australia: the architecture of dispossession then and now	140
	MARTIN CROOK AND DAMIEN SHORT
7	Colonialism and cold genocide: the case of West Papua	179
	KJELL ANDERSON
	Section two: cultural destruction	205
8	Heritage wars: a cultural genocide in Iraq	207
	HELEN MALKO
9	A century of cultural genocide in Palestine	227
	DAUD ABDULLAH
10	The Baha’i community of Iran: cultural genocide and resilience	246
	MOOJAN MOMEN
	Section three: justice and restitution	267
11	Ontological redress: the natural and the material in transformative justice for “cultural” genocide	269
	ANDREW WOOLFORD
	Index	285