

The Ethnography of Tourism

Edward Bruner and Beyond

Edited by Naomi M. Leite, Quetzil E. Castañeda, and
Kathleen M. Adams

FID SOCIAL UND
ETHNANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zentralamerika und der Karibik

LEXINGTON BOOKS

Lanham • Boulder • New York • London

Contents

List of Figures	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
PART I: ORIENTATION
Introduction—The Ethnography of Tourism: Encounter, Experience, Emergent Culture	1
Naomi M. Leite, Quetzil E. Castañeda, and Kathleen M. Adams
PART II: POINTS OF DEPARTURE
1 {Formation} Always in Process: Edward Bruner, American Anthropology, and the Study of Tourism	49
Nelson Graburn and Naomi M. Leite
2 {Genealogies} On the Emergence of Identity and Borderzones as Key Concepts	65
Kathleen M. Adams
3 {Influence} “So in Effect I Was Studying Myself”: Knowing (Our) Tourist Stories	71
Julia Harrison
PART III: EXPLORATIONS: CONCEPTS AND DEBATES
4 {Authenticity} “Whatever We Weave Is Authentic”: Coproducing Authenticity in Guatemalan Tourism Textile Markets	89
Walter E. Little

- 5 {The Borderzone} Living in and Reaching beyond the Touristic Borderzone: A View from Cuba 107
Valerio Simoni
- 6 {Constructivism} “I Can Feel Them Now, Even as I Write”:
Hiking Yosemite Falls with the Emergent Subjects of Tourism 125
Sally Ann Ness

PART IV: FURTHER AFIELD: NEW DEPARTURES

- 7 {Identity, Mobility, Embodiment} “Being a Tourist in My (Own) Home”: Negotiating Identity between Tourism and Migration in Indonesia 147
Kathleen M. Adams
- 8 {The Self, Narrative, Borderzone} Beyond Dialogue:
Hospitality and the Transformation of Self in Southwestern
Madagascar 167
David Picard
- 9 {Contested Sites, Identity, Stories} “Ideologies at War”
at Chichén Itzá: An Ethnography of a Tourism Destination 181
Quetzil E. Castañeda

PART V: HOMECOMINGS AND FUTURE DIRECTIONS

- 10 Taking Tourism Seriously: A Conversation with Edward Bruner 207
Michael A. Di Giovine and Edward M. Bruner
- 11 Reflections 233
Edward M. Bruner
- Afterword—Beyond Anthropology: Ethnography in Tourism Studies 239
Mary Mostafanezhad and Margaret Byrne Swain
- References Cited 249
- Index 279
- About the Contributors 299