Full Papers

Examining Identity Exploration in a Video Game Participatory Culture . . . . .	3
Amanda Barany and Aroutis Foster
Using ENA to Analyze Pre-service Teachers' Diagnostic Argumentations: A Conceptual Framework and Initial Applications. . . . .	14
Elisabeth Bauer, Michael Sailer, Jan Kiesewetter, Claudia Schulz, Jonas Pfeiffer, Iryna Gurevych, Martin R. Fischer, and Frank Fischer
The Multimodal Matrix as a Quantitative Ethnography Methodology. . . . .	26
Simon Buckingham Shum, Vanessa Echeverria, and Roberto Martinez-Maldonado
nCoder+: A Semantic Tool for Improving Recall of nCoder Coding . . . . .	41
Zhiqiang Cai, Amanda Siebert-Evenstone, Brendan Eagan, David Williamson Shaffer, Xiangen Hu, and Arthur C. Graesser
Examining the Dynamic of Participation Level on Group Contribution in a Global, STEM-Focused Digital Makerspace Community . . . . .	55
Danielle P. Espino, Seung B. Lee, Lauren Van Tress, and Eric R. Hamilton
What is the Effect of a Dominant Code in an Epistemic Network Analysis? . . .	66
Rafael Ferreira Mello and Dragan Gašević
Tracing Identity Exploration Trajectories with Quantitative Ethnographic Techniques: A Case Study . . . . .	77
Aroutis Foster, Mamta Shah, Amanda Barany, and Hamideh Talafian
Adolescents' Views of Third-Party Vengeful and Reparative Actions. . . . .	89
Karin S. Frey, Saejin Kwak-Tanquay, Hannah A. Nguyen, Ada C. Onyewuenyi, Zoe Higheagle Strong, and Ian A. Waller
Using Epistemic Networks with Automated Codes to Understand Why Players Quit Levels in a Learning Game . . . . .	106
Shamyia Karumbaiah, Ryan S. Baker, Amanda Barany, and Valerie Shute
Use of Training, Validation, and Test Sets for Developing Automated Classifiers in Quantitative Ethnography . . . . .	117
Seung B. Lee, Xiaofan Gui, Megan Manquen, and Eric R. Hamilton

Theme Analyses for Open-Ended Survey Responses in Education Research on Summer Melt Phenomenon . . . . .	128
Haiying Li, Joyce Zhou-Yile Schnieders, and Becky L. Bobek
Computationally Augmented Ethnography: Emotion Tracking and Learning in Museum Games . . . . .	141
Kit Martin, Emily Q. Wang, Connor Bain, and Marcelo Worsley
Using Process Mining (PM) and Epistemic Network Analysis (ENA) for Comparing Processes of Collaborative Problem Regulation . . . . .	154
Nadine Melzner, Martin Greisel, Markus Dresel, and Ingo Kollar
Students' Collaboration Patterns in a Productive Failure Setting: An Epistemic Network Analysis of Contrasting Cases . . . . .	165
Valentina Nachtigall and Hanall Sung
The Influence of Discipline on Teachers' Knowledge and Decision Making . . . . .	177
Michael Phillips, Vitomir Kovanović, Ian Mitchell, and Dragan Gašević
Let's Listen to the Data: Sonification for Learning Analytics . . . . .	189
Eric Sanchez and Théophile Sanchez
Examining the Impact of Virtual City Planning on High School Students' Identity Exploration . . . . .	199
Mamta Shah, Aroutis Foster, Hamideh Talafian, and Amanda Barany
Multiple Uses for Procedural Simulators in Continuing Medical Education Contexts . . . . .	211
Andrew R. Ruis, Alexandra A. Rosser, Jay N. Nathwani, Megan V. Beems, Sarah A. Jung, and Carla M. Pugh
Cause and Because: Using Epistemic Network Analysis to Model Causality in the Next Generation Science Standards . . . . .	223
Amanda Siebert-Evenstone and David Williamson Shaffer
Student Teachers' Discourse During Puppetry-Based Microteaching . . . . .	234
Takehiro Wakimoto, Hiroshi Sasaki, Ryoya Hirayama, Toshio Mochizuki, Brendan Eagan, Natsumi Yuki, Hideo Funaoi, Yoshihiko Kubota, Hideyuki Suzuki, and Hiroshi Kato
Using Epistemic Network Analysis to Explore Outcomes of Care Transitions . . . . .	245
Abigail R. Wooldridge and RuthAnn Haefli
Exploring the Development of Reflection Among Pre-service Teachers in Online Collaborative Writing: An Epistemic Network Analysis . . . . .	257
Yuhe Yi, Xiaoxu Lu, and Jing Leng

Epistemic Network Analysis for Semi-structured Interviews and Other Continuous Narratives: Challenges and Insights . . . . . 267
Szilvia Zörgő and Gjalt-Jorn Ygram Peters

Short Papers

Quantitative Multimodal Interaction Analysis for the Assessment of Problem-Solving Skills in a Collaborative Online Game. . . . . 281
Alejandro Andrade, Bryan Maddox, David Edwards, Pravin Chopade, and Saad Khan

On the Equivalence of Inductive Content Analysis and Topic Modeling. . . . . 291
Aneesha Bakharia

Using Recent Advances in Contextual Word Embeddings to Improve the Quantitative Ethnography Workflow. . . . . 299
Aneesha Bakharia and Linda Corrin

The Dynamic Interaction Between Engagement, Friendship, and Collaboration in Robot Children Triads . . . . . 307
Yanghee Kim and Michael Tscholl

Effects of Perspective-Taking Through Tangible Puppetry in Microteaching and Reflection on the Role-Play with 3D Animation . . . . . 315
Toshio Mochizuki, Hiroshi Sasaki, Yuta Yamaguchi, Ryoya Hirayama, Yoshihiko Kubota, Brendan Eagan, Takehiro Wakimoto, Natsumi Yuki, Hideo Funaoi, Hideyuki Suzuki, and Hiroshi Kato

A Socio-Semantic Network Analysis of Discourse Using the Network Lifetime and the Moving Stanza Window Method . . . . . 326
Ayano Ohsaki and Jun Oshima

Designing an Interface for Sharing Quantitative Ethnographic
Research Data. . . . . 334
Zachari Swiecki, Cody Marquart, Arjun Sachar, Cesar Hinojosa, Andrew R. Ruis, and David Williamson Shaffer

Post-hoc Bayesian Hypothesis Tests in Epistemic Network Analyses. . . . . 342
M. Shane Tutwiler

Applying Epistemic Network Analysis to Explore the Application of Teaching Assistant Software in Classroom Learning . . . . . 349
Lijiao Yue, Youli Hu, and Jing Xiao
