
The Routledge Handbook of Linguistic Ethnography

Edited by Karin Tusting

FID SOZIAL- UND KULTURANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

 Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group
LONDON AND NEW YORK

Contents

List of figures	xiv
List of tables	xv
Acknowledgements	xvi
List of contributors	xvii
1 General introduction	1
Karin Tusting
History of linguistic ethnography	1
Theoretical influences and antecedents	2
The handbook	4
References	8
PART I
Antecedents, related areas and key concepts	11
2 Interactional sociolinguistics	13
Ben Rampton
Introduction	13
Historical background	14
Approach to analysis	15
Challenges	17
Practical interventions beyond the academy	20
Current contributions and research areas	21
Future directions	22
Further reading	24
Related topics	24
References	25

Contents

3	Discourse analysis	28
	Stef Slembrouck
	Historical perspectives and key definitions: defining discourse and the discursive	28
	Current contributions: the contemporary range of discourse analytical engagements	32
	Critical issues and debates: discourse analysis and linguistic ethnography	33
	Research methods and future directions: recording, transcription and the relationship with fieldwork	35
	Further reading	36
	Related topics	36
	References	36
4	Literacy studies	40
	Julia Gillen and Winnie Siu-ye Ho
	Introduction and definitions	40
	Historical perspectives	41
	Critical issues and debates	43
	Current contributions and research areas	45
	Main research methods including approaches to analysis	46
	Implications for practice	47
	Future directions	48
	Further reading	50
	Related topics	50
	References	50
5	Sociolinguistic ethnographies of globalisation	54
	Alexandra Grey and Ingrid Piller
	Introduction and definitions	54
	Historical perspectives	55
	Critical issues and debates	56
	Current contributions and research areas	61
	Future directions	65
	Further reading	66
	Related topics	67
	References	67
6	Scale	70
	Stef Slembrouck and Mieke Vandenbroucke
	Introduction – the history and scope of the concept of scale as part of a spatial turn	70
	Scale as space/time	73

The body as a taken-for-granted scale	75
Scales in linguistic ethnography: informants, practices and research	76
Scale in a linguistic ethnographic account of border-crossing	76
Future directions	80
Further reading	81
Related topics	81
References	82
7 Social class	84
Julia Snell
Introduction	84
Historical perspectives: the emergence of class in variationist sociolinguistics	84
Main research methods	87
Current contributions and research areas	87
Critical debates and implications for practice	91
Future directions	93
Summary	93
Further reading	94
Related topics	94
References	94
8 Heteroglossia	97
Adrian Blackledge and Angela Creese
Introduction	97
Historical perspectives	97
Critical issues and debates	98
Current and recent research	100
Implications	105
Future directions	106
Further reading	106
Related topics	107
References	107
9 Style and stylisation	109
Jürgen Jaspers and Sarah Van Hoof
Introduction	109
Historical perspectives	110
Current contributions and research areas	113
Critical issues and debates	116
Main research methods, including approaches to analysis	119
Future directions	121

Contents

Further reading	122
Related topics	122
References	123
10 Multimodality	125
Jeff Bezemer and Sahra Abdullahi
Introduction	125
Historical perspectives	125
Critical issues and debates	126
Current contributions and research areas	127
Main research methods: looking beyond writing	128
Main research methods: looking beyond speech	130
Further directions	135
Further reading	136
Related topics	136
References	137
PART II
Methods	139
11 Participant observation and field notes	141
Uta Papen
Introduction and definitions	141
Historical perspectives	142
Methods	143
Current contributions and research areas	147
Critical issues and debates	149
Future directions	150
Further reading	151
Related topics	151
References	151
12 The ethnographic interview	154
Anna De Fina
Introduction	154
Types of interviews	155
Historical perspectives	156
Critical issues and debates	157
Current contributions and research areas	163
Conclusions and future directions	164
Further reading	164
Related topics	164
References	164

13	Micro-analysis of spoken interaction	168
	Rachel Heinrichsmeier
	Introduction and definitions	168
	Historical perspectives	170
	Key debates	170
	Main research methods and analysis	172
	Implications for practice	179
	Current contributions	179
	Future directions	180
	Further reading	180
	Related topics	181
	References	181
14	Ethics	184
	Fiona Copland
	Introduction	184
	Historical perspectives	185
	Critical issues and debates	190
	Current contributions and research areas	192
	Future directions	195
	Conclusion	196
	Further reading	196
	Related topics	196
	References	196
15	Collaborative ethnography	198
	Gabriele Budach
	Introduction and definitions	198
	Historical perspectives	201
	Critical issues and debates	202
	Current contributions and research areas	204
	Main research methods	208
	Implications for practice	208
	Future directions	209
	Further reading	210
	Related topics	210
	References	210
16	Reflexivity	213
	Adriana Patiño-Santos
	Introduction and definitions	213
	Historical perspectives	214

Contents

Critical issues and debates	215
Current contributions and research areas	216
Implications for practice: the backstage of our research	219
Future directions	225
Further reading	226
Related topics	226
References	226
17 Digital approaches in linguistic ethnography Piia Varis and Mingyi Hou	229
Introduction	229
Historical perspectives	230
Critical issues and debates	231
Current contributions and research areas	232
Main research methods	234
Future directions	236
Further reading	237
Related topics	237
References	237
18 Mixing methods? Linguistic ethnography and language variation Susan Dray and Rob Drummond	241
Introduction	241
Critical debates: how compatible are ethnographic and variationist traditions?	242
Current contributions and key concepts: recent studies using ‘mixed-methods’	244
Main research methods and analysis: mutually useful data collection, transcription and analytic categories?	245
Implications for practice: mixed methods? Lessons learned	253
Acknowledgements	253
Related topics	253
References	253
PART III
Sites and situations	257
19 Youth language Rickard Jonsson, Henning Årman and Tommaso M. Milani	259
Introduction: definitions and key terms	259
Historical perspectives	261

Critical issues and debates	262
Current research areas	264
Future directions	267
Further reading	268
Related topics	269
References	269
20 Language diversity in classroom settings	273
Richard Barwell
Historical perspectives	273
Current contributions and research areas	274
Critical issues and debates	275
Discussion, conclusions and further directions	284
Further reading	284
Related topics	285
References	285
21 Elite multilingualism	286
Charlotte Selleck and Elisabeth Barakos
Introduction	286
Historical perspectives	287
Critical issues and debates	289
Current contributions and research areas	290
Implications for practice	293
Future directions	294
Further reading	295
Related topics	295
References	295
22 Lingua franca scenarios	299
Janus Mortensen
Introduction and key concepts	299
Historical perspectives	300
Critical issues and debates	301
Current research areas	304
Main research methods and approaches to analysis	305
Implications for practice	305
Future directions	306
Acknowledgements	307
Further reading	307
Related topics	307
References	307

Contents

23	Faith communities	312
	Vally Lytra
	Introduction	312
	Historical perspectives	314
	Critical issues and debates	316
	Main research methods	320
	Implications for practice	321
	Future directions	322
	Further reading	323
	Related topics	323
	References	323
24	Policy	326
	Sara Shaw and Laura Eyre
	Introduction	326
	Historical perspectives, critical issues and debates	327
	Current contributions and research areas	327
	Main research methods	329
	Implications for practice	336
	Future directions	337
	Further reading	337
	Related topics	338
	References	338
25	Sign languages	340
	Lynn Hou and Annelies Kusters
	Introduction: linguistic ethnography and sign languages	340
	Main research methods	341
	Terms and classifications: sociolinguistic contexts of signing	341
	Research areas	343
	Critical issues and debates: language ideologies	349
	Future directions	351
	Conclusion: contributions and implications	351
	Acknowledgements	351
	Further readings	352
	Related topics	352
	References	352
26	Academic writing	356
	Kathrin Kaufhold and Karin Tusting
	Introduction	356
	Historical perspectives and core influences	356
	Main research methods	358

Contents

Current contributions and research areas	359
Critical issues and debates	364
Implications for practice	365
Future directions	365
Further reading	366
Related topics	366
References	367
Index	371