Crimmigrant Nations

RESURGENT NATIONALISM AND THE CLOSING OF BORDERS

Robert Koulish and
Maartje van der Woude
EDITORS

FORDHAM UNIVERSITY PRESS NEW YORK 2020

Contents

INTRODUCTION: The "Problem" of Migration
Robert Koulish and Maartje van der Woude 1

I. Border Criminologies

1 Insecurity Syndrome: The Challenges of Trump's Carceral State
Tony Platt 33

2 Migration, Populism, Racism: Between "Old" Italy and "New" Europe
Dario Melossi 50

3 The Promise of the Border: Immigration Control and Belonging in Contemporary Britain
Ana Aliverti 68

II. Crimmigration under Trump

4 The Terrorism of Everyday Crime
Juliet P. Stumpf 89

5 The Trumping of Neoliberal Penality? Trump's Presidency and the Rise of Nationalist Authoritarianism in the United States
Sappho Xenakis and Leonidas K. Cheliotis 116

6 Trump v. Hawaii: Trumpeting Authoritarianism with Formalist Analysis and Sovereign Norms
Robert Koulish 134

7 A Path toward Nowhere: The Rise of Enforcement-Based Immigration Policy
Doris Marie Provine 157

8 Trump Doesn't Tweet Dog Whistles, He Barks with the Dogs: Crimmigration as a Racial Project through the Lens of Trump's Twitter
Rashawn Ray and Simone Durham 179

9 Mirrors of Justice? Undocumented Immigrants in Courts in the United States and Russia
Agnieszka Kubal and Alejandro Olayo-Méndez 198

III. Shoring Up Fortress Europe

10 Euroskepticism, Nationalism, and the Securitization of Migration in the Netherlands
Maartje van der Woude 227

11 Sorting Out Welfare: Crimmigration Practices and Abnormal Justice in Norway
Helene O. I. Gundhus 249

12 The Fight against Terrorism in Belgium: Crimmigration Law as a Counterterrorism Instrument?
Lana De Pelecijn and Steven De Ridder 279

13 How Does Crimmigration Unfold in Poland?: Between Securitization Introduced to Polish Migration Policy by Its Europeanization and Polish Xenophobia
Witold Klaus 298

14 Migration Control, Populism, and the Spectrum of Exclusion in Turkey
Zeynep Kasli and Zeynep Yanasmayan 315

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS 337

INDEX 341