

Making the British empire, 1660–1800

Edited by Jason Peacey

MANCHESTER UNIVERSITY PRESS

CONTENTS

Notes on contributors—viii
Abbreviations and conventions—x

1 Introduction Jason Peacey	1
2 The pivot of empire: party politics, Spanish America and the Treaty of Utrecht (1713) Steve Pincus	17
3 Party politics and empire in the early eighteenth century J. H. Elliott	38
4 From anti-popery and anti-puritanism to orientalism William J. Bulman	56
5 Protestantism and the politics of overseas expansion in later Stuart England Gabriel Glickman	77
6 Reconciling empire: English political economy and the Spanish imperial model, 1660–90 Leslie Theibert	100
7 Legal geography and colonial sovereignty: the making of early English ‘Bombay’ Philip J. Stern	121
8 Compensating imperial loyalty, 1700–1800 Julian Hoppit	142
9 Sheffield’s vision: the American Revolution and the 1783 partition of North America Eliga H. Gould	160
10 Legal pluralism and Burke’s law of nations Jennifer Pitts	178

Index—198