

British Protestant Missions and the Conversion of Europe, 1600–1900

Edited by Simone Maghenzani and Stefano Villani

 Routledge
Taylor & Francis Group
NEW YORK AND LONDON

Contents

List of Figures	viii
Acknowledgments	x
List of Contributors	xi
Introduction	1
SIMONE MAGHENZANI AND STEFANO VILLANI
SECTION I
Missionary Models	13
1 “One World is Not Enough”: The “Myth” of Roman Catholicism as a “World Religion”	15
SIMON DITCHFIELD
2 “The Jesuits Have Shed Much Blood for Christ”: Early Modern Protestants and the Problem of Catholic Overseas Missions	35
JOHN COFFEY
SECTION II
The Origins of Global Protestantism	55
3 (Re)making Ireland British: Conversion and Civility in a Neglected 1643 Treatise	57
JOAN REDMOND
4 Charting the “Progress of Truth”: Quaker Missions and the Topography of Dissent in Seventeenth- and Eighteenth-Century Europe	79
SÜNNE JUTERCZENKA

5 The English and the Italian Bible	102
SIMONE MAGHENZANI

SECTION III

Missions and Church Unifications in the Age of the Enlightenment	119
---	-----

6 “True Catholic Unity”: The Church of England and the Project for Gallican Union, 1717–1719	121
CATHERINE ARNOLD

7 “Promoting the Common Interest of Christ”: H.W. Ludolf’s “Impartial” Projects and the Beginnings of the SPCK	140
ADELISA MALENA

8 Between Anti-popery and European Missions: The Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge and its Networks	164
SUGIKO NISHIKAWA

SECTION IV

A British Missionary Land	181
----------------------------------	-----

9 The Evangelical Transformation of British Protestantism for Mission	183
DAVID BEBBINGTON

10 The London Jews’ Society and the Roots of Premillennialism, 1809–1829	198
BRENT S. SIROTA

11 Missions on the Fringes of Europe: British Protestants &amp; the Orthodox Churches, c. 1800–1850	215
GARETH ATKINS

12 Sermons in Stone: Architecture and the Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts within the Diocese of Gibraltar, c. 1842–1882	235
G. A. BREMNER

13 The Land of Calvin and Voltaire: British Missionaries in Nineteenth-Century Paris	262
---	------------

MICHAEL LEDGER-LOMAS

Index	279
--------------	-----