

Critical Medical Anthropology

Perspectives in and from Latin America

Edited by Jennie Gamlin, Sahra Gibbon, Paola M.
Sesia and Lina Berrio

FID SOZIAL- UND
KULTURANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

UCLPRESS

Contents

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
List of contributors	ix
Preface: Critical medical anthropology in Latin America: Trends, contributions, possibilities Eduardo L. Menéndez	xiv
Introduction Paola M. Sesia, Jennie Gamlin, Sahra Gibbon and Lina Berrio	1
Part I: Intercultural health: Critical approaches and current challenges	17
1. Anthropological engagement and interdisciplinary research: The critical approach to indigenous health in Brazil Esther Jean Langdon and Eliana E. Diehl	19
2. Critical anthropologies of maternal health: Theorising from the field with Mexican indigenous communities Jennie Gamlin and Lina Berrio	42
3. Susto , the anthropology of fear and critical medical anthro- pology in Mexico and Peru Frida Jacobo Herrera and David Orr	69
4. Post-coital pharmaceuticals and abortion ambiguity: Avoid- ing unwanted pregnancy using emergency contraception and misoprostol in Lima, Peru Rebecca Irons	90

Part II: Globalisation and contemporary challenges of border spaces and biologised difference	117
5. Migrant trajectories and health experiences: Processes of health/illness/care for drug use among migrants in the Mexico–United States border region	119
Olga Lidia Olivas Hernández
6. Border Spaces: Stigma and social vulnerability to HIV/AIDS among Central American male migrants at the Mexico–Guatemala border	145
Rubén Muñoz Martínez, Carmen Fernández Casanueva, Sonia Morales Miranda and Kimberly C. Brouwer
7. The ethno-racial basis of chronic diseases: Rethinking race and ethnicity from a critical epidemiological perspective	170
Melania Calestani and Laura Montesi
Part III: Political economy and judicialisation	193
8. Consultation rooms annexed to pharmacies: The Mexican private, low-cost healthcare system	195
Rosa María Osorio Carranza
9. Naming, framing and shaming through obstetric violence: A critical approach to the judicialisation of maternal health rights violations in Mexico	222
Paola M. Sesia
10. Judicialisation and the politics of rare disease in Brazil: Rethinking activism and inequalities	248
Waleska Aureliano and Sahra Gibbon
Afterword	270
Claudia Fonseca
Index	277