

Florentina Scârnelci-Domnişoru (ed.)

Visual Techniques Applied in Social Research

PETER LANG

Contents

Florentina Scârnechi-Domnişoru Introduction	7
Florentina Scârnechi-Domnişoru I The relevance of visual data in social research	21
Codrina Csesznek II Studying social change through the re-photography technique in a rural Romanian community	59
Marinela-Cristina Şimon III Are the volunteers different from non-volunteers? A comparative analysis based on visual data (drawings)	129
Ada Ioana Dobrescu IV A visual perspective on adolescent identity	157
Diana-Cristina Bódi V Using the drawing to identify post-retirement identity transformations	189
Daniela Sorea VI God, as the children of Romania draw It	229
Mihaela Gotea VII Exploring social workers' perceptions of their marital partners in different family life stages, using visual methodology	281
Ioana-Anisa Atudorei VIII Studying students' moral emotions by visual techniques	321
Giuseppina Cersosimo IX Concluding notes: Applications and developments in visual techniques	359
List of Figures	377
List of Tables	387