

SPORTS IN AFRICA, PAST AND PRESENT

EDITED BY TODD CLEVELAND, TARMINDER KAUR, AND GERARD AKINDES

FID SOZIAL- UND KULTURANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

OHIO UNIVERSITY PRESS, ATHENS

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction
More Than Just Games	1
Todd Cleveland, Tarminder Kaur, and Gerard Akindes
PART ONE: HISTORIOGRAPHY OF SOUTH AFRICAN SPORTS
ONE Reflections on Pathways to the Writing of South African Sports History	19
Albert Grundlingh and Sebastian Potgieter
PART TWO: AFRICAN SPORTS PEDAGOGY
TWO The Final Frontier: African Sports Studies in the Classroom	33
Todd Cleveland
three African Sports in the Liberal Arts Classroom	47
Matt Carotenuto
four On Teaching South African Sports History at a US University	62
Peter Alegi

PART THREE: RESISTING DISCRIMINATION AND FORGING IDENTITY THROUGH SPORTS

- five “The Gist of the [Game] Is Played Out on the Edges of the Cricket Boundary”: The History of an Indian Cricket Team in Africa, 1934–95 77
Trishula Patel
- six Nigeria, Women’s Football, and Resisting the Second Fiddle 95
Chuka Onwumechili and Jasmin M. Goodman

PART FOUR: CROSSING RACIAL BOUNDARIES:
SPORTS AND APARTHEID

- seven Beyond South Africa’s Draconian Racial Segregation:
Transkeian Surfing Narratives, 1966–94 111
David Drengek
- eight Racing out of the Shadows: Black Competitive Cycling in Johannesburg and Cape Town, ca. 1900–1964 125
Todd H. Leedy

PART FIVE: ON THE MARGINS: INFORMAL ENGAGEMENTS WITH SPORTS

- nine English Premier League Football Kiosks and the Emergence of Communal Television Viewing as a Sporting Practice:
The Case of Eldoret, Kenya 141
Solomon Waliaula
- ten The Gambling Games: “Unorganized Structure” of South African Soccer 155
Tarminder Kaur

PART SIX: AFRICAN SPORTS MIGRATION: EUROPEAN DREAMS AND NIGHTMARES

- eleven African Footballers’ Migration to Europe:
Shifting Perspectives and Practices 177
Ernest Yeboah Acheampong, Michel Raspaud, and Malek Boubaouala

twelve	Postcareer Precarity: Occupational Challenges among Former West African Footballers in Northern Europe Christian Ungruhe and Sine Agergaard	190
PART SEVEN: SPORTING BIOGRAPHIES
thirteen	Black Physical Culture and Weight Lifting in South Africa Francois Cleophas	207
fourteen	Sprinting Past the End of Empire: Seraphino Antao and the Promise of Sports in Kenya, 1960–64 Michelle Sikes	219
PART EIGHT: THE DURABLE IMPACT OF THE PAST: SPORTING LEGACIES AND HERITAGE
fifteen	Rugby Transformation as Alibi: Thoughts on Craven and Coetzee Derek Charles Catsam	233
sixteen	No Place of Honor: The Erosion of Historical Space and Place within the Kimberley Rugby Narrative Mark Fredericks	249
seventeen	The Gift of a Running Shoe: Heritage and the Comrades Marathon House Marizanne Grundlingh	264
	About the Editors and Contributors	279
	Index	289