

Reciprocity Rules

Friendship and Compensation in Fieldwork Encounters

Edited by Michelle C. Johnson
Edmund (Ned) Searles

FID SOZIAL- UND KULTURANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

LEXINGTON BOOKS

Lanham • Boulder • New York • London

Contents

List of Figures	ix
Introduction	xi
Michelle C. Johnson and Edmund (Ned) Searles
1 Brother to a Scorpion: Making Anthropological Obligations Visible in Urban Nicaragua Josh Fisher	1
2 Predestined Help: Cosmology and Constraint in Transnational Fieldwork Michelle C. Johnson	19
3 Existential Debt: How Race and History Complicate the Legibility of the Gift Carolyn M. Rouse	39
4 Reflections on a Community of the Heart: The Ethnographer and the People of Juchitán, Oaxaca Anya Peterson Royce	57
5 Cigarettes, Cash, or Spare Parts: Compensation and Reciprocity in Arctic Research Edmund (Ned) Searles	79
6 Conversations and Critiques on Creating an Anthropological “Family” Chelsea Wentworth and Julie Kalsrap	99

Afterword: Concluding Thoughts on Fieldwork and Friendwork Alma Gottlieb	123
Works Cited	133
Index	149
About the Editors and Contributors	163