

Kerstin Knopf, Detlev Quintern (Eds.)

From Marx to Global Marxism

Eurocentrism, Resistance,
Postcolonial Criticism

 Wissenschaftlicher Verlag Trier

Table of Contents

Ranabir Samaddar Preface	1
Detlev Quintern and Kerstin Knopf Introduction: From Marx to Global Marxism – Eurocentrism, Resistance, Postcolonial Criticism	7
I. Critical Re-Readings of Marx
Jakob Graf Clean Capitalism? Ambiguities in Marx’s Critique of Political Economy from a Global Perspective	41
Kolja Lindner and Urs Lindner How Marx Got Rid of Historical Materialism	57
Hans H. Bass The Legacy of Karl Marx: Utopias, Dystopias, and Beyond	75
II. Marxism Beyond Europe: Syncretic Readings
Muzaffer Kaya Hikmet Kivılcımlı’s Contribution to Marxist Historiography: A Turkish Perspective	103
Seyed Javad Miri Shariati’s Reading of Karl Marx: An Iranian Perspective	113
Yakov M. Rabkin Zionism and Marxism: An Uneasy Relationship	123
III. Marxist Ideas and Social Struggles in the Postcolonial World
Guilherme Leite Gonçalves and Sérgio Costa From Slavery to Financialisation: Entangled Accumulations in the Port of Rio de Janeiro	145

Ramzi Darouiche
From the Asiatic Mode of Production to Counter-Revolution: Re-Reading the Egyptian Uprisings	161

Najeeb V. R.
The Making of the Mappila Muslim Working Class in Tatamala and Cherakara Tea Plantations	177

IV. Beyond Marx: Critical and Decolonial Readings

Aditya Nigam
Uneven Development and Historical Time	201

Deborah Nyangulu
What's in a Name? Renewing Socialism via Decolonization	219

Detlev Quintern
Beyond Imperiocene: Justice after Marx	233

V. Historical Connections: Marx, Engels, and Bremen

Johann-Günther König
Friedrich Engels – Important Bremen Years 1838-1841	253

Silke Hellwig
“A Quarry, not a Cathedral.”
Interview with Hans Bass, Kerstin Knopf, and Detlev Quintern	261

Contributors	265
--------------------	-----