

The Holocaust Across Borders

Trauma, Atrocity, and Representation in Literature and Culture

Hilene S. Flanzbaum

FID SOZIAL- UND
KULTURANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

LEXINGTON BOOKS

Lanham • Boulder • New York • London

Contents

The Holocaust Across Borders: An Introduction Hilene Flanzbaum	1
1 Selling the Holocaust in Twenty-First-Century France Hilene Flanzbaum	15
2 Life Is Beautiful, or Not: The Myth of the Good Italian Shira Klein	33
3 Not My Holocaust: MAUS and Memory in the Polish Classroom Holli Levitsky	53
4 Germans, Migration, and Holocaust Memory in Contemporary Literature Agnes C. Mueller	71
5 The Burden of the Third Generation in Germany: Nora Krug's Belonging: A German Reckons with History and Home Victoria Aarons	89
6 An Impossible Homecoming: Ruth Klüger's Austria Sarah Painitz	113
7 Fractures and Refractions in Argentina: Prosthetic Memory and Edgardo Cozarinsky's Lejos de dónde Amy Kaminsky	133
8 Anglicization and the Holocaust in Judith Kerr and Eva Tucker's Fictions Joshua Lander	157

9	Collective Disengagement: Canada's National Holocaust Monument Lizy Mostowski	179
10	Forgetting and Remembering: The Holocaust in Contemporary Australian Fiction Ira Nadel	201
11	"We Are the New Children": Shoah and Israeli Childhood in Nava Semel's And the Rat Laughed Ranen Omer-Sherman	217
12	Representing the Holocaust and Jewishness in Contemporary Television: The Cases of The Man in the High Castle , Hunters , and Juda Marat Grinberg	239
	Index	271
	About the Contributors	287