

Ephemeral Spectacles, Exhibition Spaces and Museums

1750–1918

*Edited by
Dominique Bauer and Camilla Murgia*

Amsterdam University Press

Table of Contents

Introduction: Staging the Temporary: The Fragile Character of Space	7
Camilla Murgia

I The Department Store

1. “One Need Be Neither a Shopper Nor a Purchaser to Enjoy:” Ephemeral Exhibitions at Tiffany & Co., 1870–1905	19
Amy McHugh and Cristina Vignone
2. Enclosed Exhibitions: Claustrophobia, Balloons, and the Department Store in Zola’s Au Bonheur des Dames	55
Kathryn A. Haklin

II Spectacles

3. Jardins-Spectacles: Spaces and Traces of Embodiment	81
Susan Taylor-Leduc
4. Parading the Temporary: Cosmoramas, Panoramas, and Spectacles in Early Nineteenth-Century Paris	107
Camilla Murgia
5. Portable Museums: Imaging and Staging the “Northern Gothic Art Tour” – Ephemera and Alterity	131
Juliet Simpson

III At the Intersection of Literature and the Built Environment

6. The Elusiveness of History and the Ephemerality of Display in Nineteenth-Century France and Belgium: At the Intersection of the Built Environment and the Spatial Image in Literature	161
Dominique Bauer

7. The “Phantasmatic” Chinatown in Helen Hunt Jackson’s “The Chinese Empire” and Mark Twain’s Roughing It 191
Li-hsin Hsu

IV The Museum and Alternative Exhibition Spaces

8. “Show Meets Science:” How Hagenbeck’s “Human Zoos” Inspired Ethnographic Science and Its Museum Presentation 221
Stefanie Jovanovic-Kruspel
9. The Last Wunderkammer: Curiosities in Private Collections between the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries 253
Emanuele Pellegrini
10. The Impact of Alternative Exhibition Spaces on European Modern Art before World War I 273
Nirmalie Alexandra Mulloli
- Index 297