

Object—Event—Performance

Art, Materiality, and Continuity
since the 1960s

---

Edited by Hanna B. Hölling

Bard Graduate Center

New York City

Contents

Series Editor's Preface	vii
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction: Object—Event—Performance Hanna B. Hölling	1
ONE Introducing “Fluxus with Tools” Hannah B Higgins	40
TWO Exhausting Conservation: Object, Event, Performance in Franz Erhard Walther's Werkstücke Hanna B. Hölling	62
THREE Video Art's Past and Present “Future Tense”: The Case of Nam June Paik's Satellite Works Gregory Zinman	85
FOUR Resurrecting Hannah Wilke's Homage to a Large Red Lipstick Andrea Gyorody	117
FIVE Mutable and Durable: The Performance Score after 1960 Alison D'Amato	137
SIX Sometimes an Onion, Sometimes an Artwork: Simone Forti and the Choreographic Logic of Objects and Institutions Megan Metcalf	157
SEVEN In the Viewshed: Land (Art) Preservation and Collective Constituencies Rebecca Uchill	182

EIGHT	Enlivened Pieces: Richard Tuttle at the Whitney Museum of American Art, 1975 Susanne Neubauer	218
NINE	The Cheapness of Writing Paper and Code: Materiality, Exhibiting, and Audiences after New Media Art Beryl Graham	237
TEN	The Propensity toward Openness: Bloch as Object, Event, Performance Johannes M. Hedinger and Hanna B. Hölling	261
	Contributors	284
	Index	289