

Sabine Bauer-Amin, Leonardo Schiocchet, Maria Six-Hohenbalken (eds.)

Embodied Violence and Agency in Refugee Regimes

Anthropological Perspectives

THE SOCIAL-SCIENCE
RESEARCH CENTER
in Cambridge, Massachusetts

[transcript]

Contents

Acknowledgements 9

Introduction: Embodied Violence and Agency in Refugee Regimes

Sabine Bauer-Amin, Leonardo Schiocchet, Maria Six-Hohenbalken 11

PART 1: The Terms of Engagement

European Border Regimes: Necropolitics, Humanitarianism
and the Democratic Order

Heidrun Friese 39

Mobility as a Political Act

Alessandro Monsutti 63

Palestinian Diaspora or Exile?
Affective and Experiential Dimensions of (Im)mobility

Leonardo Schiocchet 71

PART 2: Complexity and Selectivity in Refugee Regimes

Intermingling and Overlapping of Refugee Regimes
in Their Transnational Connections and Agencies:
Yezidi Refugees From Iraq

Maria Six-Hohenbalken 111

On Incorporating Refugee Integration Into Refugee Regime: South Korean Case
Seo Yeon Park	143

The Struggle for Agency of Older Refugees of the Syrian Conflict in Vienna
Sabine Bauer-Amin	167

Reassessing Civil Society Refugee NGOs and the Role of Informal Networks in Turkey
Denise Tan	199

PART 3: Ambiguity and (Un)settlement in Agency

“Young Strong Men Should Be Fighting” – The Vulnerability of Young Male Refugees
Monika Mokre	225

Cleavage and Hijab Among Women from the Syrian Conflict in Brazil
Mirian Alves de Souza	243

Reading the Routes: Exploring Experiences of Place-Making Through Refugees’ Photographs, Walks, and Narratives in a Swedish Town
Katarina Giritli Nygren, Sara Nyhlén, and Rozalie E. Böge	267

Contributors (in order of appearance)	285
--	-----