

Contact, Conquest and Colonization

How Practices of Comparing
Shaped Empires and Colonialism
Around the World

Edited by Eleonora Rohland,
Angelika Epple, Antje Flüchter and Kirsten Kramer

Contents

List of Figures	viii
List of Contributors	ix

Introduction: On ‘Doing Comparison’ – Practices of Comparing	1
ELEONORA ROHLAND AND KIRSTEN KRAMER

PART I

Women, Marriage Practices, and Morals 17

1 Bridging the Gap: Jesuit Missionaries’ Perspectives on Marriage in the Philippines in the Period of Contact	19
MARYA SVETLANA T. CAMACHO

2 Constructing the Literati: The Jesuits’ Attempt to Understand China’s Confucian Elite by Dint of Comparison	38
NADINE AMSLER

3 ‘Our’ Women, ‘Their’ Women: Domestic Space and the Question of Modernization in Nineteenth-Century Colonial India	57
SUBHASRI GHOSH

PART II

Politics, Polemics, and Propaganda 85

4 Entre Nos: Comparison and Authority in the Epistolary of Antonio Valeriano	87
EZEKIEL STEAR

5	Global Benchmarks of Princely Rule in the Early Eighteenth Century? Transcultural Comparison in the Political Series of the German Publisher Renger (1704–1718)	110
	VOLKER BAUER
6	Spain and Its North-African ‘Other’: Ambivalent Practices of Comparing in the Context of Modern Spanish Colonialism Around 1860	132
	SARA MEHLMER
7	Propaganda, Cultural Diplomacy, and the Politics of Comparison in the Early Cold War, 1945 to the 1960s	152
	BENNO NIETZEL
PART III
	Literature, Science, and Literary Discourse	173
8	Same Sky, Different Soil: Geographical Difference in Eighteenth-Century Astronomy and Its Impact on Literature	175
	ALEXANDER HONOLD
9	Between Nature and Culture: Comparing, Natural History, and Anthropology in Modern French Travel Narratives Around 1800 (François-René de Chateaubriand)	198
	KIRSTEN KRAMER
10	Comparison as Context in Sir William Jones’s Translations of Eastern Literature	225
	CATHARINA G.M. JANSSEN
PART IV
	Race, Civilization, and Religion	243
11	Colonizing Complexions: How Laws of Bondage Shaped Race in America’s Colonial Borderlands	245
	CHRISTIAN PINNEN
12	Tocqueville’s Compass: On History, Race, and Comparison in A Fortnight in the Wilds	268
	JULIAN T.D. GÄRTNER

13	Climates, Colonialism, and the Politics of Comparison: The Construction of U.S.-American Tropicality in Colonial Medicine and Public Health, 1898–1912	289
	JULIA ENGELSCHALT
14	Between ‘Cannibals’ and ‘Natural Freemasons’: The (Anti)Colonial History of Comparing Freemasonry to African Secret Societies	312
	STEPHANIE ZEHNLE
	Concluding Observations: Modes of Comparing and Communities of Practice	332
	ANGELIKA EPPLE AND ANTJE FLÜCHTER
	Index	339