

The Moral Work of Anthropology

Ethnographic Studies of Anthropologists at Work

Edited by
HANNE OVERGAARD MOGENSEN
and
BIRGITTE GORM HANSEN

FID SOZIAL- UND KULTURANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

berghahn
NEW YORK • OXFORD
www.berghahnbooks.com

Contents

Introduction. An Ethnography and Anthropology of Anthropologists Hanne Overgaard Mogensen, Birgitte Gorm Hansen and Morten Axel Pedersen	1
Chapter 1. Caring for Others: Moral Health Care in the Company of Anthropology Hanne Overgaard Mogensen	39
Chapter 2. Doing Morally Acceptable Business: Anthropologists in the World of Consultants Jazmin Mølgaard Cullen	74
Chapter 3. Not That Kind of Manager: Moral Work in Anthropological Leadership Birgitte Gorm Hansen	100
Chapter 4. Going Native in Data Science: An (Auto) Ethnography of Interdisciplinary Collaboration Morten Axel Pedersen	133
Chapter 5. You Win. Forever: Moral Positioning in a Field with No Going Home Birgitte Gorm Hansen and Lise Røjskjær Pedersen	169
Chapter 6. Leaving the Church of Anthropology: From Discipline to Profession in Anthropological Praxis Steffen Jöhncke	200
Conclusion Hanne Overgaard Mogensen and Birgitte Gorm Hansen	225
Index	232