

RESEARCH METHODS IN DIGITAL FOOD STUDIES

*Edited by Jonatan Leer and Stinne Gunder
Strøm Krogager*

FID SOZIAL UND
KULTURANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

CONTENTS

List of figures	x
List of tables	xi
List of contributors	xii
Acknowledgements	xv

1 Doing digital food studies	1
Stinne Gunder Strøm Krogager and Jonatan Leer

PART 1

Textual analysis 13

2 Textual analysis in digital food studies: New approaches to old methods	15
Michelle Phillipov

3 Reading celebrity food websites: Poststructural approaches	28
Katrine Meldgaard Kjær

4 Analysing digital food sounds from a textual perspective – A case of champagne (?)	40
Nicolai Jørgensgaard Graakjær

5 How to approach food texts on YouTube	54
Thomas Mosebo Simonsen and Stinne Gunder Strøm Krogager

PART 2

Digital ethnography 69

- 6 Fieldwork in online foodscapes: How to bring an ethnographic approach to studies of digital food and digital eating 71
Tanja Schneider and Karin Eli
- 7 Beyond the hashtag: Social media ethnography in food activism 86
Alana Mann
- 8 Food politics and the media in digital times: Researching household practices as forms of digital food activism 99
Tania Lewis
- 9 Exploring the food blogosphere 113
Meghan Lynch and Kerry Chamberlain
- 10 How to study online restaurant reviews 127
Camilla Vásquez and Alice Chik

PART 3

Users' practices 141

- 11 Digital food tracking: Combining traditional and digital ethnographic methods to identify the influence of social media sharing of health and foods upon users' everyday lives 143
Rachael Kent
- 12 How to use digital media in food-related action research 164
Jonatan Leer
- 13 Food, design, and digital media 177
Fabio Parasecoli

PART 4
Digital archives and network analysis	189
14 Archived web as a resource in food history Caroline Nyvang	191
15 Tracing culinary discourse on facebook: A digital methods approach Anders Kristian Munk	201
Afterword: Future methods for digital food studies Deborah Lupton	220
Index	226