

Christoph Haar / Matthias Kaufmann /
Christian Müller (eds.)

Civilization – Nature – Subjugation

Variations of (De-)Colonization

Das digitale Land
in der digitalen Landschaft
in der digitalen Landschaft mit der 2016

PETER LANG

Contents

Introduction	9
---------------------------	---

Section One: The Debate on Just War, Conquest and Slavery

Cláudia Teixeira

Luis de Molina on iura peregrinandi, degendi ac commercii and the French presence in Brazil	19
--	----

Danaë Simmermacher

Slaves as owners. Dominium of and over humans in Molina's De Iustitia et Iure	35
---	----

Jörg Tellkamp

Land ownership and conquest: Alonso de la Veracruz on indigenous property rights in 16th-century Mexico	51
---	----

Roberto Hofmeister Pich

Francisco José de Jaca's (c. 1645–1689) and Epifanio de Moirans's (1644–1689) plea for the liberation of enslaved black people in Latin America	69
---	----

Norbert Campagna

Reason of State and the question of the forced labor of Indians in Solórzano y Pereira's Política Indiana	111
--	-----

Christoph Haar

Hugo Grotius on sacred history and colonialism	127
--	-----

Matthias Kaufmann

Gerechter Krieg gegen veri domini vs. Besiedlung der terra nullius . Rechtfertigungsstrategien der Kolonisierung	155
--	-----

Alison Stone

Hegel and colonialism	183
-----------------------------	-----

Section Two: From Sins against Nature to Matter of Fact: Justifications of Racial Hierarchies

Christian Müller

Bringing order to an unorderly mankind: The savage stages of mankind and the concept of time 213

Manuela Massa

Sins against nature as reasons for just war 241

Suman Seth

Pathologien des Schwarzen: Rassenmedizin, Sklaverei und Abolitionismus 271

Section Three: The Decolonization of Reason

Gregory Fried

A dangerous alliance: Martin Heidegger and the decolonization of reason 291

Jean-Christophe Goddard

Decolonisation and reverse anthropology. Capitalist extractivism in the mirror of Amerindian anthropology 313

Giuseppe Tosi

Carl Schmitt on Francisco de Vitoria’s just war theory 323

Stefan Knauf

Why the life of the other matters—The decolonial ethics of exteriority in Dussel, Quijano and Mignolo 341

About the authors 355