

Living with HIV in Post-Crisis Times Beyond the Endgame

Edited by David A. B. Murray

FEDERATION OF
NATURE AND ECOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

LEXINGTON BOOKS

Lanham • Boulder • New York • London

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction David A. B. Murray	1
PART I: FANTASTIC CONCEITS AND HOW TO MIND THEM: MANAGING PLHIV IN “POST-CRISIS” TIMES	19
1 Forty Years of AIDS: Fatigue, Failure, and Fantasies Vaibhav Saria	21
2 Governing HIV+ Subjectivities in Post-2011 Egypt Wesam Hassan	41
3 Disclosure and Responsibility: Children Living with HIV in Uganda Colleen Walsh Lang	57
4 Coordination of Medical Pluralism in Public HIV Health Care in South Africa: Shifting to an Alliance Framework with Traditional Health Practitioners Claudia E. Ordóñez	81
5 Who’s Positive and Healthy Enough in West Africa for an Ebola Clinical Trial? Oumy Thiongane and Janice Graham	105

PART II: ALWAYS NEVER NORMAL: POSITIVE LIVING IN “POST-CRISIS” TIMES	123
6 “I can live a normal life”: Challenging Perceptions of HIV and (Re)productive Life in Japan Pamela Runestad	125
7 Opting Out: Aging Gays, HIV/AIDS, and the Biopolitics of Queer Viral Time David A. B. Murray	149
8 From “At-Risk” to Interdependent: The Erotic Life Worlds of HIV+ Jamaican Women Jallicia Jolly	167
9 Life beyond Survival: HIV+ Men on ART Treatment Who Consume Alcohol in Urban India Stephen L. Schensul	197
Conclusion: Remembering HIV in the Era of Eradication: Critical Nostalgia, Infrastructures of Accountability, and the Fate of Viral Socialities Robert Lorway	215
Afterword: Beyond the Endgame? Adia Benton	227
Index	233
About the Editor	241
About the Contributors	243