

The New Art Museum Library

Edited by Amelia Nelson and Traci E. Timmons

ROWMAN & LITTLEFIELD
Lanham • Boulder • New York • London

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Preface	xi
Amelia Nelson, The Nelson-Atkins Museum of Art, and Traci E. Timmons, Seattle Art Museum
Introduction: The Art of Transformation	1
Kristen Regina, Philadelphia Museum of Art
Part I. Developing, Managing, and Caring for Collections
1 Shelved Out of Sight: Library Spaces and Archives Storage in Art Museums	7
Jenna Stout, Saint Louis Art Museum
2 Cultivating Wisely: Strategies to Keep the Collection Alive and Evergreen	15
Doug Litts, The Art Institute of Chicago
3 Blood on the Walls, Blood on the Shelves: Decolonizing the Art Museum Library	23
Courtney Becks, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign
4 Haptic Aesthetics: Artists' Books in Art Museum Libraries	31
Anne Evenhaugen, Smithsonian Museum, American Art Museum and National Portrait Gallery, and Tony White, The Metropolitan Museum of Art

5	Ephemeral Survival: Managing Physical and Digital Artist File Collections	43
	Alexandra Reigle, Smithsonian Museum, American Art Museum and National Portrait Gallery, and Simon Unterschultz, National Gallery of Australia
6	Building Web Archive Collections in Art Museum Libraries	57
	Sumitra Duncan, The Frick Collection/New York Art Resources Consortium
7	Preservation and Conservation for Art Museum Library Collections: Progressive Approaches and Evolving Concepts	67
	Beth Morris, Independent Librarian, Preservation Specialist, Book Conservator, and Scholar
Part II. Access, Outreach, and Collaboration
8	Prioritizing Special Collections in the Art Museum Library	79
	Lee Ceperich, Virginia Museum of Fine Arts
9	The Life of the (Third-) Party (System): Integrated Library Systems and Discovery Layers	89
	Dan Lipcan, Peabody Essex Museum
10	Reconsidering the Reference Collection: Using Print Art Reference Materials as Training Tools	97
	Gwen Mayhew, Canadian Centre for Architecture, and Annalise Welte, Getty Research Institute
11	The State and Vision of Exhibitions in Art Museum Libraries	105
	Carol Ng-He, San José State University
12	Evolution and Revolution: New Approaches to Art Museum Library Programming	121
	Janice Lea Lurie, Minneapolis Institute of Art
13	Local Consortia and Museum Libraries: Partnering for the Future	129
	Alba Fernandez-Keys, Indianapolis Museum of Art at Newfields
Part III. Personnel in the Art Museum Library
14	Entering the Field: Resources for Aspiring Art Museum Librarians	137
	Lauren Gottlieb-Miller, The Menil Collection
15	Demonstrating the Value of the Art Museum Library through Strategic Volunteer and Intern Management	145
	Traci E. Timmons, Seattle Art Museum

Part IV. Digital Landscapes in the New Art Museum Library
16	Digital Art History and the Art Museum Library Stephen J. Bury, The Frick Collection	155
17	The Changing Ecologies of Museum Metadata Systems Jonathan Lill, Museum of Modern Art	161
18	Digitization and Digital Repositories Bryan Ricupero, University of Wyoming, and Sophie Jo Miller, University of Wyoming	169
19	The Rise of Wikimedia in GLAM Institutions Sarah Osborne Bender, National Gallery of Art, and Carissa Pfeiffer, Black Mountain College Museum + Arts Center	179
20	Getting a Seat at the Table: Art Museum Libraries as Open Access Stakeholders Heather Saunders, The Cleveland Museum of Art	189
	Index	199
	About the Editors and the Contributors	211