

Pia Lane · Bjørghild Kjelsvik ·
Annika Bøstein Myhr
Editors

Negotiating Identities in Nordic Migrant Narratives

Crossing Borders and Telling Lives

FID SOZIAL- UND KULTURANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

palgrave
macmillan

Contents

- 1 Interdisciplinary Approaches to the Study of Spoken, Written and Material Narratives 1
Bjørghild Kjelsvik, Pia Lane, and Annika Bøstein Myhr
- 2 “I Have no Family”—Identity Constructions in an Asylum Interview 29
Bjørghild Kjelsvik
- 3 Who Gets to Tell Whose Story? Asylum Seeker Narratives in Maria Amelie’s Ulovlig norsk, Mikhail Shishkin’s Venerin volos, and the Research Chapter 55
Annika Bøstein Myhr
- 4 “Model Minorities” in a “Sociolinguistic Paradise”: How Latin-American Migrants Talk About Job Interviews in Norway 83
Verónica Pájaro

5	Wielding Space and Time in Migrant Narratives: Personal and Professional Identities in Discourse Elizabeth Lanza and Anne Golden	111
6	Visual Metaphors of Migration in Museums Saphinaz-Amal Naguib	137
7	“An Inky Life Line of Survival”: Identity and Rewriting in Scandinavian Migration Narratives Ingeborg Kongslie	161
8	“It Feels like Now This Is in Our Own Language”: Religion, Authenticity and Belonging Pia Lane	185
9	Post-script: Narratives in the Construction of the Experiences of Migrants and Transnational People Anna De Fina	211
	Index	231