

The Mediterranean Redux

Ethnography, Theory, Politics

Edited by

Naor Ben-Yehoyada and Paul A. Silverstein

RE SOZIAL UND
KULTURANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

Contents

Citation Information	vi
Notes on Contributors	viii
Introduction: Remapping Mediterranean anthropology Naor Ben-Yehoyada, Heath Cabot and Paul A. Silverstein	1
1 The Virgin Mary of Algeria: French Mediterraneans En Miroir Susan Slyomovics	22
2 Pontremoli's cry: Personhood, scale, and history in the Eastern Mediterranean Joseph John Viscomi	43
3 The olive and imaginaries of the Mediterranean Anne Meneley	63
4 Revisiting 'honor' through migrant vulnerabilities in Turkey Ayşe Parla	81
5 Back to the Mediterranean? Return migration, economic crisis, and contested values in Southern Spain Mikaela Rogozen-Soltar	102
6 Transidioma afloat: Communication, power, and migration in the Mediterranean Sea Marco Jacquemet	120
Afterword
7 Rites of return: Back to the Mediterranean, again Andrew Shryock	147
8 Reclaiming the Middle Sea for Humanity Michael Herzfeld	157
Index	165