

Obstetricians Speak

On Training, Practice,
Fear, and Transformation

Edited by

Robbie Davis-Floyd and Ashish Premkumar

FID SOZIAL- UND KULTURANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

berghahn

NEW YORK • OXFORD
www.berghahnbooks.com

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Series Overview. The Anthropology of Obstetrics and Obstetricians: The Practice, Maintenance, and Reproduction of a Biomedical Profession	xii
Robbie Davis-Floyd and Ashish Premkumar
Introduction to Volume I. Obstetricians Speak	1
Robbie Davis-Floyd and Ashish Premkumar
Chapter 1. On Becoming an Abortion Provider in the United States: An Autoethnographic Account	10
Scott Moses
Chapter 2. Abortion, Professional Identity, and Generational Meaning Making among US Ob/Gyns	32
Rebecca Henderson, Chu J. Hsiao, and Jody Steinauer
Chapter 3. My Transformation from an Obstetrician to a Maternal-Fetal Medicine Subspecialist: Autoethnographic Thoughts on Situated Knowledges and Habitus	54
Ashish Premkumar
Chapter 4. Cold Steel and Sunshine: Ethnographic and Autoethnographic Perspectives on Two Obstetric Careers in the United States from across the Chasm	72
Kathleen Hanlon-Lundberg
Chapter 5. An Awakening	93
Jesanna Cooper
Chapter 6. Repercussions of a Paradigm Shift in the Professional and Personal Life of a Brazilian Obstetrician	101
Rosana Fontes

Chapter 7. The Bullying and Persecution of a Humanistic/ Holistic Obstetrician in Brazil: The Benefits and Costs of My Paradigm Shift	123
Ricardo Herbert Jones
Chapter 8. Hungarian Birth Models Seen through the Prism of Prison: The Journey of Ágnes Geréb	144
Ágnes Geréb and Katalin Fábán
Chapter 9. Adopting the Midwifery Model of Care in India	171
Evita Fernandez
Chapter 10. "Birth with No Regret" in Turkey: The Natural Childbirth of the 21st Century	192
Hakan Çoker
Chapter 11. Attempting to Maintain a Positive Awareness about Vaginal Breech Birth in Australia	210
Andrew Bisits
Chapter 12. Mixing Modalities in My Technocratic/Humanistic Obstetric Practice: Ideology and Rationales	228
Marco Gianotti
Chapter 13. How an Obstetrician Promoted Respectful Care in Canada and in the World	245
André Lalonde
Conclusions. What Have We Learned from Obstetricians?	262
Robbie Davis-Floyd and Ashish Premkumar
Index	294