

DECOLONIZATION IN PRACTICE

Reflective Learning from Cross-Cultural Perspectives

Edited by Ranjan Datta

INSTITUT FÜR SOZIAL- UND KULTURANTHROPOLOGIE
in Zusammenarbeit mit der DFG

S CANADIAN SCHOLARS
Toronto | Vancouver

Contents

Author Biographies xi

Introduction 1

Part I Indigenous Community Reflections on Decolonization in Practice 9

Chapter 1 Dance of a Transformative Shiibaashka'igan Pedagogy within the Academy 11

Karen Pheasant-Neganigwane

Miskwa Aanakwad Kwe/Pêkâc Kâpimohtêt Yôtin Iskwêw

Chapter 2 Decolonizing University Pedagogical Approaches through Indigenous Storying 29

Christine Fiddler

Chapter 3 First Nations Control of First Nations Education: Using Land as a Foundation for Scholastic Achievement while Reinforcing Cree Culture, Language, and Ways of Knowing 48

Herman Michell, Lisa Antoine, and Delano Mike

Chapter 4 The Pedagogy of Decolonization through a Paradigm Shift in Birth Work from an Indigenous Woman's Perspective 63

Kristie Billard

Chapter 5 An Indigenous Journey: From a Colonized Mindset to Decolonized Dreams 77

Ryan Whitford

Chapter 6 Spiralling In to Spiral Out: Teaching in a Land-Based Mohawk Immersion School 91

Gabrielle Yakotennikonhrare Doreen

Part II Racialized Immigrant Women and Children Community
Reflections on Decolonization in Practice 113

Chapter 7 Learning the Importance of Indigenous Meanings of Land
Acknowledgement: A Racialized Colour Settler Woman's Decolonial
Reflection 115
Jebunnessa Chapola

Chapter 8 Responsibility to Build a Decolonial Community: From a Colour
Settler Woman's Perspective 131
Priyanka Mahey

Chapter 9 Decolonizing Digital Citizen Science: Driving Self-Governance via Data Sovereignty of Historically Colonized Populations 150
Jasmin Bhawra

Chapter 10 Land-Based Learning as Cross-Cultural Youth Community Building:
A Cross-Cultural Children's Learning Journey 177
Prarthona Datta and Prokriti Datta

Part III Colour Settler Refugee and Disabled Women Community
Reflections on Decolonization in Practice 189

Chapter 11 Learning the Importance of Building a Decolonial Community:
From and within a Colour Settler Former Refugee Woman's Reflections 191
Najla Mohammadi

Chapter 12 Decolonial Lived Experiences in Bangladesh and Canada:
Navigating Race and Disabilities 205
Tasnim Jaisee

Part IV Black and Asian Immigrant Community Reflections on Decolonization in Practice 223

Chapter 13 Decolonizing Meanings of Climate Risks: A Learning Experience from and within Sub-Saharan African Immigrant Communities'
Perspectives in Western Canada 225
John B. Acharibasam and Ranjan Datta

Chapter 14 Aligning Anti-Racism Efforts with Decolonization: Reflections from Organizing in Vancouver's Chinatown 241
Yi Chien Jade Ho

Part V Anti-Racist Organization Reflections on Decolonization in Practice 257

Chapter 15 Responsibility to Build Decolonial Community(ies): A Learning Journey through Anti-Racism Education and Action with the Multicultural Community in Saskatchewan 259
Rhonda Rosenberg

What Is Next? (Moving Forward) 275

Index 277