

MAINSTREAM(S) AND MARGINS

---

Cultural Politics in the 90s

Edited by
Michael Morgan and Susan Leggett

Contributions in Political Science, Number 367

Greenwood Press
Westport, Connecticut • London

Contents

---

Introduction	vii
Michael Morgan and Susan Leggett

Part I:
POLITICAL STRATEGIES, IDENTITIES, AND MOVEMENTS

Notes on Centers and Margins	3
Poonam Pillai
Mainstreams and Leakage: Interrogating the Margins of “Art” and “Porn”	14
Rebecca Schneider
Identity and Representation as Challenges to Social Movement Theory: A Case Study of Queer Nation	32
Michael R. Fraser
The Ideological Limits of New Social Movements: The Rise and Fall of the Clamshell Alliance	45
Stephen Adair

The United Colors of Multiculturalism: Rereading Composition Textbooks in the 90s Sandra Jamieson	62
The Writings of Women Prisoners: Voices from the Margins Susan Ross	85
Part II:
AUDIENCES, IDEOLOGY, AND CULTURAL REPRESENTATION
Liberal Television: Property and the Politics of Commercial Broadcasting Thomas Streeter	103
Critical Ethnographies and the Concept of Resistance Kevin M. Carragee	126
Unarmed and Dangerous: The Gibraltar Killings Meet the Press Andy Ruddock	143
Television, Gender, and Sports Hegemony: Prime Time's Portrayal of Female Athletes Gina Daddario	159
Green but Unseen: Marginalizing the Environment on Television James Shanahan	176
Initial Lessons in Popular Orientalism from National Geographic Magazine Linda Steet	194
Refugees and Representation: Politics, Critical Discourse, and Ethnography Along the New Guinea Border Stuart Kirsch	222
Index	237
About the Editors and Contributors	243