

THE EMERGING MARKETS AND HIGHER EDUCATION
DEVELOPMENT AND SUSTAINABILITY

EDITED BY
MATTHEW S. McMULLEN
JAMES E. MAUCH
BOB DONNORUMMO

ROUTLEDGEFALMER
NEW YORK AND LONDON
2000

Contents

Series Editor's Foreword	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Tables and Figures	xiii
Introduction	xvii
PART I Background	1
CHAPTER 1 The Emerging Markets and the Process of Globalization Bob Donnorummo	3
CHAPTER 2 The Impact of Higher Education on Emerging Markets James E. Mauch	25
PART II Central Europe	45
CHAPTER 3 The Czech Republic: A Country in Transition . . . Again Matthew S. McMullen and Jiri Prucha	47
CHAPTER 4 The Role of Higher Education in the Development of Poland's Democracy and Market Economy Wieslaw Oleksy	75
PART III Asia	97
CHAPTER 5 The Emerging Markets and Higher Education: Experiences from Taiwan Hsiou-Hsia Tai	99
CHAPTER 6 Higher Education in a Rapidly Developing Country: The Case of the Republic of Korea Namgi Park	125

PART IV	Latin America	147
CHAPTER 7	From Encirclement to Globalization: Evolving Patterns of Higher Education in Brazil Elizabeth Balbachevsky	149
CHAPTER 8	Higher Education and the Emerging Markets: The Case of Chile Oscar Espinoza	171
CHAPTER 9	Higher Education: The Social, Political, and Economic Driver of Mexico's Future Elsa-Sofia Morote and John L. Yeager	199
Contributors		225
Index		227