

Maribel Blasco and Mette Zølner (eds.)

Teaching Cultural Skills

– Adding Culture in Higher Education

Nyt fra Samfundsvidenskaberne

Table of Contents

FOREWORD	9
Philippe d'Iribarne
INTRODUCTION
Teaching the hard stuff	11
Maribel Blasco
Appending culture	11
Culture pedagogy: insights and new avenues	17
Teaching culture: experiences from Danish HE	29
Literature	35
CHAPTER 2
Classroom Reflexivity	41
Kirsten Lauritsen
CHAPTER 3
History as an intercultural process	51
Nanna Bøndergaard Butters
Cultural encounters as part of History	51
Teaching Cultural encounters as part of a History course at a College of Education	52
Examples of teaching History as an identity transforming subject	57
Examples of teaching cultural encounters in History	60
The national curriculum and the idea of national democracy.	63
Lessons learned	67
Literature	68
CHAPTER 4
Selling difference	71
Janne J. Liburd and Carina Ren
Introduction	71
Methodology	73

Conceptualising culture in tourism: differences and commodities	75
Teaching culture in tourism	78
Complicating matters: a practice-centred approach to learning	81
Teaching, living, and selling culture	83
Cultural sustainability, skills, and future challenges	85
References	87
 CHAPTER 5
Teaching culture in and for practice	91
Kirsten Jæger
Introduction	91
Anthropological debates on the Use and Abuse of the Concept of Culture	93
Danish Intercultural Communication research – criticism of functionalist approaches	95
Practitioners’ experiences of cultural theory and intercultural learning in continuing education	98
Concluding remarks	103
References	105
 CHAPTER 6
Teaching Area Studies at Business Schools	107
Maribel Blasco and Mette Zølner
Introduction	107
Adding Area Studies to business curricula: Recent experiences	109
Teaching Area Studies alongside business: Epistemological dilemmas	111
How is culture taught at BLC?	111
Lessons learned	122
References	123
 CHAPTER 7
Teaching culture and communication from a global perspective	129
Mikkel Flyverbom
Introduction	129
Global perspectives and their discontents	131

Applying a global perspective.....	133
The case of Celebrity Big Brother	135
Implications of a global perspective.....	141
Conclusion.....	145
References.....	146
 CHAPTER 8
Teaching culture on business school programmes	149
Inger Askehave
Introduction	149
The course intercultural business communication (IBC)
– contents and learning process.....	151
Before we begin: scientific paradigms.....	153
Advanced Theoretical Competence.....	157
Evaluation and lessons learned.....	164
Conclusion.....	166
References.....	167
 CHAPTER 9
Learning information literacy – and culture	169
Charlotte Werther
We google... ..	169
Information literacy	170
The Business, Language and Culture programme.....	171
The frustrations of looking for material.....	172
What help is to be had?	175
But they already know how to (re)search, don't they?	177
Looking for 'culture'	179
Whose job and how?	183
References	186
 CHAPTER 10
When culture becomes a factor to be considered	189
Tine Lynfort Jensen and Anne Åbom
Introduction.....	189
The Teaching Contexts.....	190
Theoretical and practical dimensions.....	194
Lessons learned and possible approaches to handling
culture and fused identities.....	205

References	207
CHAPTER 11
Intercultural competences and project based learning in the engineering curriculum	209
Birgitte Hoffmann, Ulrik Jørgensen and Henrik Bregnhøj
Introduction.....	209
Demands for intercultural competences	210
Approach – technology, profession, and culture	212
Examples of teaching experiences at DTU	215
Lessons learned.....	222
Conclusions	224
References	225
CHAPTER 12
Culture and cultural analysis at the university	227
Liv Egholm Feldt and Jakob Egholm Feldt
Introduction.....	227
Teaching culture in practice I. Minorities and particularities ..	229
Teaching culture in practice II	235
University culture.....	241
Final comments.....	244
References	245
CONCLUSION
Lessons learned and future directions?	249
Mette Zølner
Introduction.....	249
Similarities in the adopted didactic approaches to culture	251
Lessons learned and challenges	256
New avenues for future research?	258
References	261